Port, trade zone set to unleash new growth era

By BILL WINTER

The weather outside was frightful—well, a bit cold and windy, anyway—necessitating the elimination of outdoor dedicatory ceremonies Tuesday afternoon at the Tri-City Regional Port's new bulk grain transfer terminal.

But the atmosphere indoors at the Granite City Army Installation was warm and positive as the 20-year-old Port District noted its past growth, the present facilities and services, and a future that grows brighter with each new riverfront shipping, storage and processing activity that is added.

Townsend, retired publisher of the Press-Record, was praised by Port Attorney Randall Robertson for being instrumental in the establishment of the new district.

Efforts began in 1958 and the first port commissioners were appointed and seated in 1959 following effective legislative efforts by the late State Rep. Lloyd "Curly" Harris, Robertson recalled.

Karandjeff, chairman and president of the American Heritage Bank of Granite City, was honored for serving on the port board continuously from its charter meeting until a short time ago.

Present commissioners besides Huber are past president John N. Bellecoff and Harold R. Fischer, William M. Ebersoldt, Herbert Bischoff, Dale Arnette and Lance Callis. The original president was Carl A. Ranft, now the port district's general manager.

George Andres, development manager and port engineer, told the luncheon gathering of 150 that $12 million has been spent on Tri-City Port expansion projects in the past five years alone.

"The bright future is best evidenced," he said, "by the outlook of the present port operating companies that have expansion projects under construction or planned, including Illinois Terminal Railroad, Triple T, Granite

$60 million GC Steel air-water bonds

By HARRY BARNES
of the Press-Record

An agreement between Granite City and the National Steel Corporation calling for issuance of $60 million in industrial revenue bonds to finance construction of anti-air and water pollution facilities at Granite City Steel was placed on first reading by the City Council Tuesday night.

The resolution, approved unanimously, was similar to an earlier bill approved several months ago which, at that time, involved a proposed $30 million bond sale.

The measure authorizes Mayor Paul Schuler to execute and City Clerk Robert Stevens to attest to the memorandum agreement between the city and the steel company and to issue the bonds required for the corporation project.

The bond program is similar to those issued previously by the city to aid industries and businesses to expand or build operating facilities.

Bond proceeds will be used to construct the facilities which in turn will be sold or leased to the company. The bonds and interest will be retired entirely from revenue received by the company and will constitute no financial obligation to the city.

Lance Callis, city attorney, said all of the bond proceeds must be used by the company to install anti-pollution facilities as outlined in the memorandum agreement.

Referring to the project, an exhibit attached to the resolution authorizing the agreement notes that proposed facilities include a system to control particulate emissions from sinter breaker and other multiple discharge points, including hoods and ductwork.

Other points of the program are designed to capture and clean emissions from charging and tapping operations at KM-S steelmaking facilities; fume collection and cleaning system for Argon stirring and fugitive emission collection and cleaning system from slab ripping facilities.

Also included in the program are a fume collection system and gas cleaning equipment for collection and cleaning of emissions from blast furnaces; system for collection and cleaning of emissions during slag handling at KM-S steelmaking facilities; systems to suppress and control fugitive dust emissions from raw material handling and storage areas; system for collection and removal of sulphur components from coke oven gas.

Other phases of the project include a system for control of fugitive emissions at car dumping site; standpipes, smoke holes, double-main gas collection system for various coke oven batteries; suction maintenance equipment and gas passageway maintenance equipment, including screw feeders, lid lifters, gosenek cleaners and standpipe cleaners to be included on a coke oven charging car for the reduction of emissions during the charging of coke ovens.

Also projected for installation are door and jamb cleaners for coke oven battery for reduction of emissions from coke ovens; quench tower system for control of emissions during quenching operation at coke oven batteries; a system to control fugitive dust emissions during coal transfer to coke oven batteries; upgrading of pushing

Postmaster is appointed

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

Appointment of Jack Wilkins as postmaster of Granite City, effective Nov. 17, was announced Tuesday by John P. Doran, regional postmaster general for the 13-state Central Region.

Wilkins has been a postal employee since August 1965; he was postmaster at Pittsburgh, Ill. from September 1972 to December 1973, and postmaster at

Appellate Judge Harrison to maintain office here

Judge Moses W. Harrison II, who was appointed judge of the Fifth District Appellate Court of Illinois in early September, has announced that he will maintain his offices in Granite City.

He said he decided to maintain offices here for a secretary, two lawyers to serve as law clerks, a library, and his own chambers at 1410 Niedringhaus, Granite City, because much of the litigation in the Fifth District originates in the Quad-Cities and surrounding area.

Although the Fifth Appellate District comprises 37 counties and Judge Harrison could maintain offices anywhere in the district, he said he feels that he can best serve all the people in the district by locating in the area where there is a large amount of litigation, so he will be available to the citizens through their lawyers in the event emergency action by the court is requested and needed. Judge Harrison lives in Collinsville.

Judge Harrison said he feels that judges should not divorce themselves from the needs and understanding of the public as it is important for the courts to be aware of the problems and concerns of the people.

"I can best do this by maintaining my office in the greater metropolitan area where many of the people involved in the litigation of the courts are living and working," Harrison explained.

He also stated that by remaining in the office occupied by his predecessor, George J. Moran, he would avoid the added expense to the taxpayers of the State of Illinois of moving and establishing another office and library.

Observances of Veterans' Day

Since the original Veterans Day is Sunday, many persons will observe the holiday on Monday.

There will be school on Monday, but there will be no mail delivery and the post offices of the area will be closed Monday.

There will be regular mail delivery on Saturday. All other federal offices will be closed Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Banks and savings and loan institutions will be closed Saturday.

Big savings on automotive shop

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

Existing space at Granite City High School North will be used for a larger automotive repair shop, rather than constructing a proposed half-million dollar automotive facility, the Granite City Board of Education decided Tuesday night.

The board also approved using grant funds to place a vocational print shop at Granite City High School South. An automotive shop plan by Thomas C. Holloway, director of vocational and career education for the Granite City schools, was given the board's endorsement. The plan calls for closing off a hallway between the present automotive shop on the northwest corner of the school and using the hallway for tool storage and a vehicle entryway.

A 27-foot interior wall between the current auto shop and the present tool storage area will be removed and a tool storage area will be created in what is now the hallway, under Holloway's plan.

The cost is estimated at $15,500, including additional equipment. Bids will be sought for structural changes estimated at about $8,500, including

HIT FROM BEHIND

Miss Dian Salmond, 29, of 106 Carver St., Eagle Park Acres, was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center last week after a car in which she was a passenger was struck from behind. She suffered neck and chest pains. X-rays were taken and she declined to be admitted.

PARKED CARS STRUCK

Harold J. Thick, 52, of 1905 Spruce St., was charged with careless driving after his auto allegedly struck three parked cars in front of 2025 Lee Ave., early this week. Thick said he lost consciousness, struck the parked car of Kathleen Littlejohn, 2031 Lee Ave., and pushed it into a car and a station wagon, both owned by Doug Turnbough, 2025 Lee Ave. Thick went to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, but declined treatment and left.

Reading conclave

A California educator who believes all students with normal intelligence can learn to listen, speak, think, read and write well in the English language was keynote at the 15th annual Reading Conference on Saturday at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Jo M. Stanchfield, professor of education at Occidental College in Los Angeles and author of a series of readers based on her original research, spoke on "Let's Motivate Students to Learn."

"The hottest issue in American education today is the high school," she says. "We are graduating millions who are not able to read and write."

To change the results, she urges a "basic and systematic approach." The student learns listening, speaking, writing and reading all together.

In the process, she tries to put "joy" back in the classroom, for both the reading teacher and the student. "They (the students) are filled with so much energy, and we have to learn to use that," she comments.

Boards to ballot on school issues

Should teachers be required to pass tests in reading, writing and arithmetic prior to employment? Should Illinois schools spend as much money educating gifted students as they do those with handicaps? Should teacher tenure be abolished?

Should older age limits be adopted for beginning school?

These questions and a dozen more will be voted on by Illinois school boards on Saturday, Nov. 17. The outcome of the vote will determine the stance of the Illinois Association of School Boards (IASB).

"School boards must express their views on these issues," says IASB Executive Director Harold P. Seamon. "The General Assembly is bombarded with pressure from groups that look out for the interests of students except students and taxpayers."

"Each community, through its school board, must work hard to defend the public interest in education."

The IASB is a voluntary organization of school boards created to provide board member training and to help boards solve problems. Its positions are voted on in the form of resolutions submitted by individual school boards.

Each of the 932 member board casts one vote on each resolution. For example, a resolution suggesting that prospective teachers be tested for competency was submitted by Mundelein High School District 120 of Lake County. The resolution would require basic competency tests in reading, writing and arithmetic.

A resolution urging the state to provide funds for gifted students equal to the amount now spent on handicapped students was submitted by Tolo Unit District 7 in Champaign County.

The business session on Nov. 17 is part of a three-day annual conference that includes guest speakers and panel discussions on more than 35 topics. The meeting will be held at the Palmer House, Chicago.

Guest speakers will include Joseph M. Cronin, state superintendent of education; Zacharie J. Clements, associate professor of education at the University of Vermont; Jacquelyn Mayer, inspirational speaker; and John Chancellor, NBC-TV newsmen.

Panel sessions designed to help board members and administrators learn more about their duties and cope with special problems will cover such subjects as: collective bargaining, school finance, powers and duties of boards, the problems of rural schools, ways to evaluate the board, dealing with snow, ways to improve teachers and administrators, and public relations.

George E. Moore Sr. of Granite City will be a panel speaker on "effective board meetings."

The educational conference, which is co-sponsored by the Illinois Association of School Administrators and Illinois Association of School Business Officials, also will include an exhibition of commercial products and services.

There will be opportunities for board members and administrators to get help from experts in such fields as insurance, public relations, school law, testing, energy and finance. Special workshops on collective bargaining and policy development will also be conducted.

"We expect about 3,500 board members and administrators to attend," Seamon said. "We guarantee that every one of them will have a chance to learn something new to make the schools run better when they get back home."

Marine Clark in amphibious exercise

Marine Sgt. David M. Clark, son of Donald M. and Elsie Clark of 7 Devon Hill Lane, Granite City, participated in exercise "Kernel Portlatch II."

He is a member of the 11th Marine Amphibious Unit, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, based at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The two-week exercise, conducted on Vancouver Island, British Columbia, was designed to test and evaluate the combined maritime defense procedures. It involved more than 45 ships, 150 aircraft and 40,000 personnel of the U.S. and Canadian naval, land and air force.

The operation included an amphibious landing on Vancouver Island while the naval forces practiced sea control.

This was the first Pacific Fleet exercise in which Canadian army units have embarked aboard U.S. amphibious ships. The exercise concluded with visits to Pacific Northwest ports.

Sgt. Clark joined the Marine Corps in June 1973.

Assault driver

Frank Kittle Jr., of the 1700 block of Maple Street, was assaulted in the drive-through lanes of Jack-in-the-Box Restaurant, 3330 Nameoki Road, at 1:10 a.m. Tuesday.

Kittle said he was in his car when a passenger got out of a yellow Volkswagen behind his auto, walked to the driver's window and accused Kittle of cutting in line. He pulled on the driver's window and then kicked the back door. The man, about 22 to 24 years old with black curly hair, was carrying a beer bottle and threatened to hit Kittle, it was reported.

Police arrived, but Kittle did not point out the car until it left the lot. Officers were unable to locate it. The car had a damaged left fender and no tail lights, Kittle said.

Sale! McKinley School one-third off

By GARY SCHNEIDER of the Press-Record

McKinley School will go on the auction block a second time in the near future, this time with a minimum price tag of $200,000.

Oct. 19, the school, at Niedringhaus Avenue and Iowa Street, was put on public auction with a minimum acceptable bid of $300,000. There were no bidders at that auction.

St. Elizabeth Medical Center had indicated an interest in purchasing the school for a possible nursing school and additional parking, but the $300,000 minimum bid was apparently higher than the medical center board of directors was willing to go.

The $200,000 figure is considered "a legitimate price for the building," according to Superintendent of Schools B.J. Davis, who added, "We have talked to various people on this matter."

Davis confirmed that interest in purchasing the building has been expressed by more than just the hospital. "As a matter of fact, I just got a call this morning from an interested local industry," Davis said yesterday morning.

A spokesman for St. Elizabeth Medical Center said the new minimum bid price of $300,000 will be discussed with members of the hospital's board of directors, probably through telephone conversations this week or next.

Action by the board of education Tuesday night authorizes the Madison County Educational Service Region to establish a date for a second public auction of the school. Terms for sale will be 10 percent of the bid price paid the day of the sale and the remainder due on delivery of the deed.

The board of education will have the right to accept or reject any bid, even if it is in excess of $200,000.

In other business, the board approved a new contract with the American Federation of Teachers for union secretaries. The contract calls for a nine percent increase in the first year and an eight percent increase in the second year.

Raises of the same percentages were granted non-union secretaries.

Higher wages for substitutes in all areas were adopted in hopes of easing the difficulties which have been experienced in finding substitutes available for work on certain days. For the second time in about one year, the daily pay for substitute teachers was increased, this time going from $35 per day to $38 per day. About a year ago, the figure went from $32 to $35.

The new wage for substitute custodians is $4 per hour, for substitute secretaries is $3.80 per hour and for substitute cafeteria workers and teacher aides is $3.50 per hour.

The board accepted the resignation of Doris Clinard, a secretary in the board office, with regrets. She has been on a leave of absence.

Jane Franco was hired for the remainder of the year to teach a half-day at Lake School and the other half-day at Wilson School.

Doris Jones was selected as a teacher's assistant for the Preschool Annex, and James Webb was hired as a custodian, replacing Albert Bell, who died suddenly from an illness.

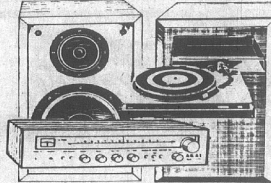

Julia Oyen was given the extracurricular assignment of heading the elementary schools' chorus. The board also agreed to accept a young man from the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) program for a campus monitor at Granite City High School North. He will be the second monitor at North.

Congratulations were extended by the board to Merna Musterman, director of the district's program for gifted children, on statewide recognition for the district's program. The Granite City school district was one of 21 districts in the state given recognition for having a significant impact on the future for the gifted.

The honor was announced during a banquet Nov. 1 and 2 in Quincy.

MISS ASADORIAN in regional event

Fourteen vocal music students of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will compete in 1979 regional competition of the National Association of Teachers of Singing (NATS) Friday and Saturday.

William Tarwater, chairman of the SIUE department of music, said the competition at the University of Missouri at Columbia will include participants from Illinois, Missouri and Iowa.

Each student will sing three songs, including a song in a foreign language, an English art song, and an aria from an opera or an oratorio. Included is Melanie Asadorian of Granite City.

Students participating in the competition are studying music under the direction of Luther Stripling and Sarah Turner, faculty members.

Cindy Johnson and Dan Viser, both of Granite City, will serve as piano accompanists.

DRIVER INJURED

"The short-line rail movement to the port means faster car turn-around times and better utilization of rail equipment. Being located south of Locks and Dam 26 avoids costly delays on the Mississippi River. And in Granite City to New Orleans shipments, the mid-stream transloading avoids tie-ups at elevators."

"The 132 million bushel capacity of our terminal is the equivalent of about $700 million worth of grain and grain products per year. This is more than 25 percent of the total agricultural exports from the state of Illinois."

"Therein lies the importance of this terminal. It has been designed and built with a number of expansions in mind. The rail dump is located 800 feet from the river so that the site will accommodate a three-million-bushel grain elevator, grain processing operations, a true receiving dump, and unit train operations."

"Those familiar with the port's day-to-day operations know that we have problems to overcome. But I hope you appreciate that, with an average tonnage growth rate of 40 percent per year over the past five years, growing pains were inevitable."

"The port is now handling a volume of 2.3 million tons and has become a full-service, 24 hours a day operation for rail switching, terminal operations, and barge tug and fleet operations. Neither flood nor ice nor other extremes keep the Tri-City Port from functioning."

"The people who have made this terminal happen have been introduced. The company that makes it work is Bulk Service Corp., operator of the terminal."

Edgar Anderson, Bulk Service president, presented his staff, including Sales Manager James Weakley.

Anderson recalled moving here in 1971 from Florida and called the time since then "the best nine years of my life."

Describing the Bulk Service program here as highly efficient, Anderson contrasted a $100,000 initial demurrage bill due to lack of rail capacity to last month's $80 demurrage.

The port staff in addition to Ranft and Anderson includes Oscar Nazetta, Foreign Trade Zone manager; Gene Fox, port maintenance supervisor; Velda Taylor, office manager; and Nancy Olofin, port secretary.

Speakers Tuesday were Huber, Robertson and two of the legislators active in port and grain terminal legislation, State Sen. Sam Vadalabene and State Rep. Everett Steele.

Also present were State Rep. Sam Wolf and State Rep. Jim McPike, both of whom were praised for providing helpful liaison on port legislative issues.

Hurst, Roche Engineers were applauded as grain system project engineers. Gene H. Stenberg was the general contractor and Hervey Electric Co. as electrical contractor.

Dignitaries included Dick Jones, the project manager from the Illinois Capital Development Board; Norman Wolf, chief, Ports Management Section, Illinois Department of Transportation; Capt. Matt Woods and Commander Alexander Tapis of the U. S. Coast Guard; Al Mavis, Illinois Department of Agriculture; Gerry Hubbard, U. S. Department of Commerce; Major Lightfoot, Army Installation commander; Lee McKinney, Corps of Engineers; Mel Gunning, I. S. Joseph Pellet mill; Don Himes and Howard Margraff, Granite City Terminals general cargo terminal; Red Lewis, Apex Oil liquid terminal manager; Arthur Griffin, Labors union; John Ullrich, Carpenters; David Higgins, Ironworkers; and Venice Township Supervisor Christ Pashoff.

City ambulance display Saturday

A public demonstration of emergency medical equipment will be given Saturday by the Granite City Fire Department Ambulance Service at the main Fire Station, 1000 Madison Ave., from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The demonstration is co-sponsored by the Illinois Department of Public Health.

The Fire Department Ambulance Service is joining with several hundred other ambulance services throughout the state in observing "Emergency Medical Services Week."

Nov. 5-11, as proclaimed by Governor James R. Thompson.

Equipment will be on display at all three Granite City stations.

Don Parente, fire chief of the Fire Department Ambulance Service, said, "I want to urge all are residents to come and see the emergency medical facilities available to members of this community."

Deadline for slashed county budgets tomorrow

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record
Heads of Madison County departments have until 3 p.m. tomorrow to learn the art of magic-like making money multiply—or they will have to undergo some severe

"belt-tightening."
Tomorrow is the deadline for all county department heads to submit revised budget requests to the county board's finance committee, trimmed by one percent from the previous budget requests.

One week ago, the finance committee announced an anticipated deficit of $124,000 and issued a memorandum to department heads asking each to cut one percent of his or her budget.

Officials of the Madison County sheriff's department say such a cut is impossible, since the department already had submitted "a bare-bones" budget request and the rising costs of gasoline and vehicle maintenance have made it necessary to divert funds from other budget categories already.

Major Ewin Knezevich, administrative director for Sheriff Emil Toffant, said the department has failed to purchase uniforms required in the union contract for the deputies and will have to purchase a less-expensive kind of coat when new uniforms are necessary, all in an attempt to save money.

The department also has cut its budget for legal publications, which are required by law before the department can sell anything, such as unclaimed evidence or burglary loot.
He noted the one percent slash will take $17,000 from the sheriff's department and another $7,000 from the jail budget.

The request for reductions in budgets came on the heels of an announcement by Madison County Auditor John Kraynak that the sheriff's department, the circuit clerk's office and the shelter care home are likely to overspend their budgets before the fiscal year ends
Nov. 30.

The finance committee responded with a resolution requiring that any over-spending be made up from other categories within each department's budget.

The resolution may not improve the situation at the shelter care home, however, where there is insufficient money to meet tomorrow's payroll. The $128,000 remaining in the county's contingency fund already has been committed to pay insurance premiums, Kraynak said.

After tomorrow's reduced budget requests are received, the finance committee is to prepare a tentative county budget. A public hearing on the budget is to be held at 7 p.m.
Wednesday, Nov. 24, in the county board room at the county courthouse at Edwardsville.

TALENTED DRUMMER Stan Fornaszewski, 16, earns second-place honors in 10-state drum competition. Standing behind him, from the left, are Jake Hanna, Charlie Menees, host of KMOX Radio's "Jazz Under the Arch," and John Karoly.

GC car stolen, dumped in canal

A 1972 blue Oldsmobile, belonging to Samantha Roach, 2229 Miracle Ave., was recovered Tuesday by Madison County sheriff's deputies in the Hartford Canal, near Cemetery Road.
The owner's husband, Tom Roach, informed police at 5:35 p.m. Tuesday of being notified by county officers of the vehicle's recovery.

The auto had been left Tuesday morning in the 2100 block of Woodlawn Avenue by his wife, who then had boarded a bus for her job in St. Louis, Roach said.

He was not aware the vehicle had been stolen until notified of its recovery, he added.

ENTER APARTMENT

Apparently nothing was taken in a burglary at the home of Karen Smith, 917 Niedringhaus Ave., which was entered by breaking a window in a rear door and reported at 5:30 p.m.
Tuesday. It was the second time her apartment had been entered in the past week, she informed police.

Fornaszewski 2nd in region

Stan Fornaszewski was the first place winner in a local drum contest, enabling him to advance to 10-state regional competition held outside of Kansas City at Baker University.

He placed second in the regional with a score of 71, just 2½ points short of the winner, Todd Strait of Topeka, Kan.

The national drum contest is sponsored by the Slingerland Drum Co.

Fornaszewski is planning to attend the national contest to be held in Las Vegas on Dec. 2 to watch the 13 regional winners competing.

"I felt if I could have won the regional, I would have had a good chance for the national win, since there you play with a live band instead of records, and I am at my best with a live, big band."

"Over 650 drummers
throughout the United States worked hard for the event and they probably feel like I do. Watch out for next year," he commented.

The national contest winner is to appear on the Johnny Carson show on Dec.
12.

Steel radiator, siphon gasoline

Thieves entered the Paul Seebold Concrete Co., 22nd Street and railroad tracks, by tearing plywood from the rear wall of a garage. It was reported at 10:40 a.m.
Tuesday.

Gasoline was siphoned
from two cement mixer vehicles and an air com-pressor, and a radiator was stolen from a pickup truck parked in the adjacent lot.

A company van inside the garage had been loaded with auto and truck batteries, but apparently the thieves abandoned their efforts to take the batteries when the vehicle failed to start, it is theorized.

The Church of God on West Pontoon Road was the setting for the candlelight wedding of Kathy Stout, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Stout, 2518 Hemlock St., and Aaron Hickam, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Hickam, 628 East Chain of Rocks Road.

The Rev. O. J. Clonginger performed the double ring ceremony Sept. 15 at 2 p.m.

The bride was escorted by her father to an altar decorated with white gladioli and mums and a white candelabra. White satin bows adorned the pews.

The ushers, Troy Turner, a cousin of the groom, and Ron Hindman were candlelighters.

David Hindman sang, "We've Only Just Begun," accompanied by Georgia Hindman on the piano. Tina Parchman played the "Wedding March" on the organ.

The bride's gown was white satin in an A-line design with a lace cape forming a train. Her veil was tiers of shoulder length lace secured on a white satin band adorned with seed pearls.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations with blue baby breath and blue ribbon.

Rene Sharp was the honor attendant for the bride. She wore a floor-length sky blue sleeveless A-line gown with a chiffon cape trimmed in blue and white lace.

She carried a bouquet of blue tipped carnations and blue baby breath.

The groom chose Jeff Turner, his cousin, to serve as best man.

Marlene Stout, sister of the bride, attended the guest book.

A reception was held immediately following the wedding in the church hall.

The bride is a 1979 graduate of Granite City High School North and has received her license as a beautician.

The groom graduated in May from North High and recently finished his initial training at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas. He is currently stationed at Chanute Air Force Base, Rantoul, Ill., where he will be studying aero-ground equipment repair.

The groom-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Jackson, Rural Route Two, 708A. Miss Arnold is attending Granite City High School South.

Her fiancé graduated in 1978 from Granite City High School North and is employed at American Steel. A July 25 wedding is being planned.

Patience circle meets

Mary Ahlvers and Alice Cruse were hostesses to members of Patience Circle Thursday afternoon in the parlors of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Katherine VanOrder offered prayer and the meeting was opened by Thelma Chapman, circle leader.

Plans were made for a joint Christmas party with Faith Circle at Burns Cafeteria at 1 p.m. Dec. 6. A gift exchange will take place and Mrs. VanOrder will present "The Christmas Story."

Twenty-five sick calls were made in October by the circle, it was announced.

Mrs. Clements said a prayer vigil was to be held for success of the church stewardship crusade. Final preparations for the church bazaar, scheduled this Friday, were made and a collection was taken for the Fellowship of the Least Coins.

Edna Stutch and Mabel Gertsch, leaders of the Joy and Charity circles, will serve as hostesses at a general meeting of United Methodist Women on Dec. 13 at 7 p.m. in Wesley Hall.

Mabel Stewart gave a lesson on "Lydia," taken from the book, Women of the Bible. She also read a story, "The Perfect Thanksgiving."

The club will give special recognition to past presidents for their contribution toward upholding the BPW objective of women helping women through service to community, job and home.

Club membership is open to any working woman in the Quad-City area, and the president, LaVelle Stephens, encouraged all members to attend and bring guests.

For dinner reservations, members may call the chairman of the November meeting, Florence Moore, 877-0220, or Ann Graklanoff, 877-6327.

The Kings Daughters, a vocal group, will perform at 6 p.m. Sunday at Rock Church, 1817 State St. Pastor Gordon Nelson said the public is invited to the presentation.

Ethnic festival Nov. 18

A special meeting was held last week to begin preparations for the second annual Ethnic Festival to be held at St. Margaret Mary's on Nov. 18.

The festival will feature an Ethnic Awareness Liturgy and Polka mass at 11:15. Immediately following the mass, an ethnic lunch will be served with the menu consisting of Polska Kielbasa, Italian beef sandwiches, homemade tacos and tamales along with many ethnic pastries and delicacies. Lunch will be served until 4 p.m.

The ladies of St. Margaret Mary will display their handcrafted bazaar items for sale.

The music for the mass will be provided by the Playi Dunav Tamborizans as well as for the afternoon of free dancing.

The public is invited to attend, according to a church spokesman. Pastor at the church is Father Edward Groesch.

Retired discuss insurance issues

Granite City Chapter 1340, American Association of Retired Persons, met at the Township Hall last week for a business meeting. President Helen Bergfield opened the meeting by reading the recitation of the Lord's Prayer and the pledge of allegiance. She introduced guests, Edna Frazier and Amy Tony. Vera Carey made a report of the previous meeting. The financial report of Clara Schillinger was approved. The board recommended purchase of a booklet from AARP with detailed information for seniors on insurance, both Medicare and other coverage. Approval was given to purchase one copy per family. President Bergfield said that the board and committee chairmen attended the district AARP workshop held at Lewis and Clark Restaurant and said that the triennial audit of the operations of the chapter had been rated as good. Announcement was made that any retired teacher who belongs to the NRTA is welcome to join the AARP chapter. President Bergfield asked that all members make note of coming events on their calendars: Nov. 27, Luau; Dec. 12, AARP dinner dance; Dec. 19, Christmas party. Cleveland Cox gave a report on the "mystery tour." He said there were three busloads and 132 persons on the trip. Their first stop was in Vincennes, Ind., and then they proceeded to the University of Indiana at Bloomington, Ind., where they stayed two nights.

At dinner the first night, the concert band of the University of Indiana played an all-German concert. The next day they went to the Brown County Park and next visited Columbus, Ind., where the Cummins Diesel Plant is located.

The group toured businesses and many churches, all having distinctive architecture. On the way home, they visited Nashville, Ind., where they saw a craft show.

Oscar Ashgave presented a report on legislative matters. President Bergfield reported the death of one of the members, Gertrude Reardon.

Irene Kadanec introduced the following new members: Emma Schoen, Charles and Frances Wade, David and Virginia John, Edna Foley, Alberta Robertson, Bessie Henley and Gladys and George Bass.

She said that a count of the membership list was made.

with 386 at the beginning of the year, and 74 new members for a total of 460. The news bulletin is sent to 339 homes.

Caroline Lux reported 107 in attendance at the meeting. Edna Hoover said that the new year of "Dialogue for Senior Citizens" started in late October and runs every Wednesday through April 1980 at SUE. There is a special series for five Wednesday on global matters.

She invited members to join those already enrolled to join either series.

Edgar Paddock read the nominating committee slate of officers and board for 1980. The election will be held in November.

Prizes were distributed and birthdays were celebrated. After adjournment, refreshments were served and games were enjoyed. Some members had asked to be taught several of the dances, and so a short class was held. General dancing and card games followed.

At Johnson Road, the driver allegedly jammed on the brakes and slid sideways into the curb, bouncing over it. The truck then went east on Johnson Road and stopped at Clark Avenue and Lydia Lane, where Bell was arrested.

See 3 million tons in the future for 80-inch GC Steel hot mill

(The Mill) One of the world's most powerful and fastest rolling mills, the Granite City Steel 80-inch Hot Strip Mill continues to be a key to the division's future.

It was a major factor in the merger of GC Steel into National Steel in 1971, and the increasingly high performance of the mill since the merger has justified the faith of those involved in the merger.

According to GC Steel Operations Vice President Art Kuhlman—who has been closely associated with the 80-inch mill since its start-up in 1967—changes have been made and will continue to be made to make the mill even more productive.

"We've recently undergone some 'growing pains' in the Hot Strip operation by breaking in a fourth production crew—something we've never in our history had."

"But in order to make possible the tremendous tonnage we'll need in the future, we're going to have to average 18 to 19 production tons per week, so a 20-turn schedule is a must at times." Kuhlman was referring to the inauguration of a 20-turn operating schedule on the mill, which previously had worked an 18-turn schedule. The 18 turns often were augmented by overtime hours, a practice which can be successful for the short term but not for extended periods of peak demand.

In a July 1971 meeting of GC Steel stockholders to approve the merger, National's then president George A. Stinson said, "National will utilize the Granite City Hot Strip Mill to produce semifinished steel for further processing at National's Midwest Steel Division, as well as to continue producing steel for Granite City's markets."

"This means that the construction of new hot strip capacity to supply Midwest will not be necessary. "This opportunity to utilize existing capacity more fully is particularly welcome at a time of excess capacity on an industry-wide basis."

"Some time in the 1980s," Kuhlman predicted, "Granite City Steel's Hot Strip Mill will need a capacity in excess of three million tons a year in order to fulfill its expected role for the corporation."

"With a primary steel tonnage far less than that, it's easy to see that much of this capacity will be used for 'conversion' of slabs from other National Steel divisions."

Last year, for the first time since 1973, more than two million tons of coils came off the Hot Strip Mill. In all, 2,225,502 tons were rolled, topping the 1973 record of 2,155,844 tons.

The 80-inch Hot Strip is a massive complex of slab-heating furnaces, roughing mills, finishing mills, coilers, electric-drive motors and many auxiliary facilities housed in three huge buildings.

The mill stands which convert steel slabs into hot rolled plate and sheets, are driven by 105,000-horsepower motors. GC Steel's mill is the first in the U.S. to be started up and run exclusively by computer control.

With such sophisticated equipment, regular maintenance is a key to keeping the mill rolling.

Kuhlman made reference to this phase of the operation: "It is more and more important that we improve our delay recovery. We need more operating hours, more scheduled turns and fewer delays."

"Accomplishing these goals may be a painful experience for some of us, but once we work our way through that experience, we'll all be in a better position to provide for the future."

Harold E. Long just earned three big letters: CLU.

CLU, Chartered Life Underwriter. Coveted letters, earned through solid experience. Study. Ten comprehensive examinations. Strict ethical standards. 82 elderly over 60 take advantage of low BAC fee

Eighty-two senior citizens have taken advantage of Belleville Area College's tuition reduction plan for those over the age of 60. During the August meeting of the Board of Trustees, a $2 per credit hour tuition for those over 60 was approved, and Vincent Margerum, director of admissions, reports that 82 people have taken advantage of the rate during the fall semester. (Regular tuition at BAC is $14 per credit hour.)

"We expect the number to increase appreciably in semesters to come," Vice President Weldon Tallant stated. "Because the tuition reduction was approved just before the fall semester started, there was not enough time to give the action adequate publicity."

The spring semester schedule which is to be delivered to all mailboxes in the district during the week of Nov. 18 explains the tuition reduction for senior citizens.

"We would like to see many more people take advantage of this low tuition," Tallant stated. "Belleville Area College is committed to lifelong learning, and we believe that more and more people are going to discover the pleasure that comes with learning something new at their community college."

2 HURT ON FEHLING
Michelle Wright, 17, of 45 Steelcrest Lane, and Kelly Wright, 8, of 4205 Maryville Road, a passenger in Michelle Wright's car, were injured when the vehicle struck the parked pickup truck of David Dumoulin, 2181 Harrison St., in the 3100 block of Fehling Road early this week. Both went to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where Michelle Wright was treated for pain to her left hand and wrist and abrasions to her lower lip. Kelly Wright bumped her forehead. Both were released after treatment.

Industrial bonds issued by Granite City helping bring new industrial plants, expansions, health improvements

In a week crowded with activities, one of the gatherings, yesterday's monthly prayer breakfast, spotlighted a primary way in which the local private employment base is being expanded—municipal industrial revenue bonds issued by the City of Granite City. (Another job stimulant, steadily-expanding Tri-City Regional Port activity, was noted at ceremonies Tuesday dedicating the new bulk grain transfer terminal.)

Aldermen and other city officials were praised Wednesday for their constructive attitude toward the concept of city bonding for projects to create or expand local businesses. The bonds pose no monetary threat whatever to the city government or to taxpayers. Bond buyers take the full risk, along with the enterprise deriving the bond sale proceeds.

While certain other funding opportunities also exist, the firms that have utilized city industrial revenue bonds have made clear that such bonds provide a helpful competitive advantage. Their tax-exempt nature permits lower interest costs that can make the difference between a "go" or "no go" decision on a pending project.

Growth in the local job base not only helps assure employment opportunities and a relatively high level of prosperity for this community and the surrounding area, but also puts tax-supported local and state governmental agencies on a sounder footing. Governmental jobs added substantially to Quad-City economic advancement, but only private enterprise becomes a part of the assessment base from which real estate taxes are obtained.

There is considerable municipal bonding here, in contrast to some areas that have not yet begun to extend a helping hand to those planning new and enlarged industries.

Along with the initial $800,000 venture through which the Feralloy Corp. plant was established here in 1978, there have been two bond issues totaling $4,100,000 to establish and equip the new Michigan Metals plant here (at Granite City Steel property formerly operated as the Commonwealth plant of General Steel Industries) and a $28½ million bond issue for the constantly growing St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

National Steel Corp. envisions a $60 million bond issue to help finance additional modernization of facilities and further elimination of air and water pollution at Granite City Steel.

This proposal, underscoring National Steel's commitment to this community and to what has become "the jewel" of its steelmaking facilities, was put on first reading by the City Council Tuesday night and will be considered for adoption at a later meeting.

Other bond-related projects are in the planning stage at such companies as Nestle, Chromalloy, R & R Leasing and Air Products.

The effective limit per bond issue, as determined by the Internal Revenue Service, was $5 million until 1977, when it was increased to $10 million. Exceptions to the financial limit are health-related improvements, such as those at St. Elizabeth, and pollution abatement installations, such as those at Granite City Steel.

There is no overall limit on the number of industrial revenue bond issues, nor do they place a cumulative limit on local governmental bonding authority. The key elements are the viability of local plants and the soundness of their construction and expansion proposals.

Granite City has been one of the pioneers in this field. And, thanks to the 1970 Illinois Constitution and the foresight of Mayor Schuler, City Attorney Callis and others in the wording of local ordinances, there has been a continuing "green light" from bond experts and consulting firms. Nationally, 48 states have taken steps to participate in municipal industrial revenue bond programs, and of the 35 states embarking on specific bond ventures, 31 have been upheld on their procedural methods.

Speakers yesterday included Roger B. Sippey, Feralloy vice-president and general manager; John J. Reardon, St. Elizabeth Medical Center vice-president; Donald F. Cairns, Granite City Steel vice-president; and Mayor Paul Schuler, Attorney Lance Callis and Larry Dever, Granite City Rotary prayer breakfast chairman.

It was brought out that the bond concept was authorized by federal authorities as a way to encourage the acquisition, purchase, expansion, improvement, reconstruction, equipping, betterment or extension of enterprises that can contribute to local-level economic development.

As an indication of the beneficial nature of the Granite City bonds, assessed valuation has increased 10 percent during a period in which many cities have lost ground in their tax base. Several inquiries on possible new projects are being received and answered each month.

The revenue bonds are serving as a needed and productive catalyst to the provision of up-to-date processing, fabricating and production facilities throughout the city, and they can perform a similar role in the geographic area within ten miles of the municipal boundary. After a span of time in which several industries discontinued operations here, the bonds are helping bring a new and highly desirable era of progress.

GC Post Office news good, bad

There was good news and bad news this week at the Granite City Post Office.

The good news was that mail placed in special local boxes outside the postal building at 24th Street and Madison Avenue during the evening and night hours until about 5 a.m. will be retained in the city and delivered that day.

But the Post Office announced that the routes of mail carriers will be changed, which may cause delays of from one to five hours in some customers receiving their mail daily.

"Due to recent count of mail and carrier route inspections, there will be certain street time adjustments on the various city delivery carrier routes from the Granite City Post Office," according to a press release issued yesterday by Arthur Laurence, officer in charge.

"There may be little or no changes for some postal customers, while there may be one to five hours difference in other delivery routes.

"While the postal service would like to provide every customer across this great nation with delivery as early every morning as is humanly possible, the volume and workload to be processed does not permit this kind of service."

"Therefore, some customers, due to various circumstances, will receive earlier delivery than others and some will receive later delivery in the day than others," the release concluded.

State, national honors for GC gifted pupil program

B. J. Davis, superintendent of Granite City schools, and Mrs. Merna M. Musterman, gifted program coordinator, were guests of honor at an award banquet given by the Illinois State Board of Education, held in conjunction with the Illinois Gifted Conference at Quincy.

The local administrators received a certificate of recognition for having developed an exemplary gifted program according to criteria established under "Project Impact."

Of 48 districts receiving state funds for their gifted education programs, 21 were so identified, of which only four were in the southern Illinois region.

A description of the local program will be included in a published handbook to be distributed nationally. The intent of "Project Impact," a federally funded project to recognize excellence and to use them for others to replicate.

The award was accepted on behalf of the many students, parents and teachers who have worked to establish this program.

Mrs. Musterman, together with Frohardt School Teachers Kim Harrison and Judy Deterding, made a formal presentation at the conference, attended by 900 educators interested in the welfare of gifted students.

Other local educators attending the conference were Principals Edward Gomwa, Ted Vrenick and James Jeffries; and Learning Center and resource teachers Virginia Gram, Mary Snelson, Marge Mulach, Martha Gnanakos, Mary Lou Hudson, Helen Schmeisser, Cindy Mills, Lynn Jacobsmeier, Gail Vogler, Barry Schroeder, Wilma Bone, Ron Keaton, Pat Moore and Marilyn Bilyeu.

EAST 23RD BURGLARY
A $22 pair of men's shoes, a $38 tape recorder, a $25 man's coat, a $150 rifle, $9 in cash and silver coins, and about $5 worth of Halloween candy were stolen during a burglary at the home of Charles Timmons, 2411 E. 23rd St., it was discovered at noon Thursday. It could not be determined how entry was gained.

Chief Circuit Judge Hochstetler yesterday commended Deputy Sheriff Clyde Tisdell for discovering that an Oct. 31 trial spectator had a loaded revolver.

Calvo is a candidate for appellate court

Horace Calvo of Granite City, chief judge of the Third Judicial District of Madison and Bond counties, announced yesterday that he will run for Appellate Court justice next March.

Calvo plans to run on the Democratic ticket for the seat vacated by Justice George Moras Sr. of Granite City.

Harrison currently is filling that spot by Supreme Court appointment.

that vacancy on appointment by the Illinois Supreme Court.

Calvo said he is running for Justice Eberspacher's since he expects Justice Moses W. Harrison III to run on the Democratic ticket for the seat vacated recently by Justice George Moras Sr. of Granite City.

Auto shop

removal of the wall and installation of garage doors.

School district personnel would do about $2,000 worth of the work, including erecting four 10-foot partition walls. Another $5,000 would be earmarked from vocational funds for additional equipment. If bids received for the structural work are acceptable, work could begin within a few weeks.

Holloway told the board the lack of auto shop space and facilities has limited the vocational auto mechanics program at North and prevented the district from offering a full two-year vocational program, as noted in last year's state evaluation.

Plans to build a new automotive mechanics and auto body shop were hampered by a lack of federal funding, causing the district to put plans for a $500,000 facility "on the shelf."

Holloway's plan for using existing hallway space at North creates a shop area about 700 square feet smaller than the planned shop in the proposed building. There will be no auto body or hallway or classroom space in the new plans, but those could be added at a later date, Holloway said.

A photographic darkroom and custodial supply room also are included in Holloway's plan. The Citizens' Advisory Council for Industrial Education reviewed the plan Oct. 9 and recommended support for the project, he added.

Assistant Superintendent of Schools

Frank Kraus noted representatives of the Illinois Office of Education and from the Regional Superintendent of Schools' office have conducted on-site inspections and have approved the project. No architectural work will be required, Kraus added.

Superintendent B.J. Davis told the board, "Mr. Holloway's plans certainly entail the expenditure of a great deal less money than projected for the separate building. This would be a vast improvement over what we presently have and seems to be a wise expenditure to improve a greatly needed program."

"Mr. Holloway and others who have worked on this project should be commended for their innovative approach to solving this problem," Davis said.

Those board members present concurred unanimously in the recommendation to seek bids for structural changes. Absent were David Partney and Steve Saltch.

The board also gave its approval to the purchase of $20,117 in equipment for the establishment of a vocational print shop at Granite City High School South. The project will be funded by a grant under Public Law 94-142 which is intended to aid handicapped students. The print shop, however, will serve all interested students, including handicapped.

The grant which was approved by the Illinois Office of Education also provides funds for one full-time print shop director. Three applications for the position already have been received by the school district.

A used offset camera costing $400 and a used varitype machine costing $150 will be purchased from Duplo High School. A used paper cutter also is available from AM International Co. for $475, which is included in the approved plan.

Bids were sought on all other equipment, including a remanufactured offset printing press costing $6,395, available from AM International Co. Bids were low on a lettering and metal platemakers, a lettering machine and type, a collating machine, a binding machine and a plate storage unit for a total of $10,382.

Duplo Co. was low bidder on a paper folding machine, a padding press, press jacks, an electric stapler and a paper jogger, all at a total of $1,339.

The project was approved by the special education accounting department Friday for presentation to the school board Tuesday night.

Holloway said the new facility will be located somewhere within the Granite City High School South building, but an exact classroom has not been identified.

Gracey charged in murder with the use of a search warrant, but declined to comment further.

Initial reports that Mr. Stockman had not been in Elsie's Tavern during the evening were inaccurate, Bright said.

"We have determined he was in the tavern prior to the shooting and Gracey also was seen in there, but we do not know for how long," Bright said. Mr. Stockman was found in an automobile on the state's highway, with a wound from a large caliber weapon to his left cheek. Efforts by Edwardsville police to locate the vehicle were unsuccessful and he was pronounced dead at the scene.

Funeral services were held in Granite City Monday and burial followed in Valley View Cemetery, Edwardsville.

last Friday morning.

Gracey was charged in informational documents from the Madison County state's attorney's office with murder and two counts of unlawful use of a weapon. Bright said that $200,000 on the murder charge and $15,000 on each of the weapon's charges.

Asked about rumors that the shooting had been the result of an argument over a pool game, Major Fred Bright of the Madison County Sheriff's Department responded, "We have no motive at this time."

He said the weapon used in the shooting has been located at the scene.

Mr. Stockman was found in an automobile on the state's highway, with a wound from a large caliber weapon to his left cheek. Efforts by Edwardsville police to locate the vehicle were unsuccessful and he was pronounced dead at the scene.

Block crossings, railroad charged

A Granite City officer filed a complaint at 12:35 a.m. Tuesday against Norfolk and Western Railroad, charging obstruction of grade crossings.

The officer said a train, containing 210 cars and pulled by three engines, allegedly blocked railroad crossings at 20th, 22nd and 25th streets for an excessive period.

Illinois students' achievements
Levels are much higher than the figures of four years ago, according to a new study.

Officials now estimate the new county jail will be finished by late February or early March.

An agreement was reached Tuesday between Friedman's and the Retail Clerks, increasing the total of new store contracts to 17.

Libson and Carp's offered new proposals yesterday for employees to study Marilyn's and Clark's are conferring with the clerks and mediation officials.

The second City Area United Way campaign report luncheon is set for 11:45 a.m. Friday at the YMCA auditorium. It is being announced that the YCAW, AFL-CIO Community Service and Coordinated Youth are cooperating to improve use of existing staff time and expertise in their community service activities.

A Madison County judge yesterday dismissed a reckless conduct charge against Randy Decker, 29, who was accused of hitting a River Festival food service worker with a flashlight. An unrelated charge of aggravated battery remains to be tried.

To avoid loss of all tax relief, State Sen. Sam Vadalabene yesterday voted an increase in property taxes and drug sales tax out to existing. Senators split 27-27, setting the stage for the basic tax reduction plan approved by the House and endorsed by the governor to be voted on today.

Traveling exhibit BPW fashion show Sunday on 4 Southwest Ill. historic eras

In the near future, a traveling slide presentation and artifact exhibit will provide senior citizens of southwestern Illinois with archeological information normally available only on university campuses and inside museums.

The traveling exhibition will be available to senior citizens at times and locations of their own choosing — namely, area senior citizen centers and nutrition sites — according to Clyde Fisher, associate director of the SIUE Office of Continuing Education and director of the Metro-East Institute of Lifetime Learning.

MEILL is an interinstitutional venture supported by SIUE, Belleville Area College, Lewis and Clark Community College, and State Community College, as well as the five regional chapters of the American Association of Retired Persons.

The traveling presentation and exhibit will be produced through the combined efforts of the Illinois Humanities Council, the Cahokia Archeological Society, SIUE, and the Institute.

The principal people working on the project will be Sidney Denny, associate professor of anthropology at SIUE; Bill Iseninger, archeologist for the Illinois department of Conservation working at the Cahokia Mounds Historic Site; Brad Kildenhoff, president of the Cahokia Archeological Society; Reba Klenke, coordinator for the institute, and Fisher.

In addition to senior citizens, the exhibit will serve a diverse audience of organizations and institutions involving people from all age groups and walks of life.

Slides and artifacts will contain a summary of the archeologically-defined stages of cultural development in Illinois prehistory, including the Paleo-Indian, Archaic, Woodland and Mississippian periods.

The Paleo-Indian period embraced the period from 8,000 to 3,000 B.C. when people were mainly big game hunters, obtaining the biggest portion of their subsistence from mammoths, mastodons, and bison.

The Archaic period began at 3,000 B.C. and came to an end about 3,000 B.C. During this time the large mammals began to die out, and early man began to hunt small game and gather nuts and berries.

The woodland period began with development of agricultural methods and settlement of small towns and villages. The period extended roughly from 3,000 B.C. to 1,000 A.D.

The final stage of cultural development in the area is the Mississippian period, lasting from around 1,000 to 1,500 A.D. During this time, agriculture became the basic means of subsistence, and large cities developed along the major riverways.

The period represented the final stage of prehistoric development in southwestern Illinois, for it was about this time that the first white man came to the state. Emphasizing the importance of archeological finds to the region, Fisher said, "In a time of rapid urbanization in the local area, it is important for citizens to be aware of the civilizations that preceded them and the richness of their prehistory."

He pointed out that many senior citizens already possess some knowledge or interest in archeology, having come into contact with area prehistoric sites either by visiting a site or by finding Indian artifacts in a plowed field or along a creek bank.

Denny said the largest problem facing the archeological community today is the destruction of the data base by expanding urbanism and a variety of related factors.

The professor went on to say, "Because of the urban character here and the intensity of prehistoric occupation, archeological sites are being destroyed at an alarming rate."

"The development of public interest in the preservation of sites and the monitoring of known sites is the best insurance that sites will not be needlessly destroyed."

All proceeds from the style show are contributed to charitable endeavors supported by the business women's group.

Florence Moore, a member of the local BPW club since 1975 and the current BPW District 14 public relations chairman, will serve as co-commentator.

She will be joined in describing the fashions by Sue Turquette, a former Collinsville resident, who is a graduate of Bradley University and has taught school in Northern and Central Illinois.

Mrs. Turquette has spent the past 10 years traveling around the country with her Air Force husband, Captain John Turquette, and has been involved with several Officers' Wives club chorale groups.

Cooking Corner

To everything there is a seasoning

BY MARJORIE RICE
About 52,000 years ago, give or take a millennium, man discovered that a hunk of the hunt was vastly improved when it was wrapped in some leaves before it was stuck into the fire.

From then and throughout history, the story of spices and aromatic seasonings is one filled with discovery, pirates, even wars, as people fought for the flavorings that would make their food palatable.

"(It wasn't just finicky taste buds. Poor storage, and a lack of refrigeration made it imperative to find a way to cover up the stench of near-rotting food.)"

We're still interested in spices and herbs, not now as cosmetics for bad food, but as enhancers, teasers of the palate.

Last year Americans consumed 457 million pounds of spices, according to the American Spice Trade Association.

Their products include spices, herbs, spice seeds and dehydrated vegetable seasonings (dried onion, parsley flakes, green pepper flakes, etc.).

The group also sponsors research into the chemical makeup of spices, ways to better clean and process them, and nutrient analysis of spices.

The group's research efforts got some seasonings off the banned list for some special diets (bland isn't always better, doctors have found, for patients with some stomach disorders).

The association has a variety of booklets on spices, most of them free, available to consumers. Two of particular interest to persons on special diets are "Low Sodium Spice Tips" and "Low Calorie Spice Tips."

Order both by writing the association at P.O. Box 1267, Englewood Cliffs, N.J. 07632. Send a self-addressed, stamped legal size envelope, and while you're at it, ask them for a list of other publications for consumers.

Experiment, and get to know how a spice or herb tastes. Then imagine it in various food blends.

For instance:

— Sprinkle ground cardamom on honeydew melon, whole cardamom seed in demitasse coffee.

— Add celery seeds to coie slaw, sprinkle celery salt over creamed vegetable soups just before serving.

— Crush dill seeds into a potato salad, sprinkle dill weed over thinly sliced cucumbers then add French dressing.

— Use ground coriander to brighten canned mushrooms, chop coriander leaves (cilantro) over chilled soups and Indian and Mexican recipes.

— Add a few fennel seeds into pie fillings, slice a whole fennel root thinly and try it raw with a vinaigrette dressing.

— Add a dash of mace to whipped cream to cake topping, grate fresh nutmeg (the nut from the same plant that produces mace) into freshly steamed green vegetables such as spinach.

— Add ground mustard to cheese sauce for macaroni (careful, it's not), add a few mustard seeds to pot roast cooking liquid.

— Crush green peppercorns, then press them into a steak before broiling.

There are some herb and spice combinations that are classics.

Allspice goes into baked foods, fruit desserts, pickles, relishes and marinades.

Basil is the perfect mate for tomatoes (and it's very easy to grow both). Use it in spaghetti sauce, and with cooked vegetables, seafood, poultry and salads.

Bay leaves flavor soups and stews, marinades, and meat, fish and fowl.

SPICY SAGA. Man has enhanced his cooking with herbs and spices from prehistoric times. You can enliven your cuisine with a collection like this one of spices and herbs—mix and match to your palate's content. Shown are bay leaves and freeze-dried shallots (large center jars). Starting top left and going clockwise are dill seed, mustard seed, caraway seed, dried whole pepper, rosemary, onion flakes, paprika, cloves, chili powder, oregano, parsley flakes and whole black pepper. The glass stoppered jar holds dill weed. Yellow-gold curry powder and freeze-dried chopped chives round out the list of the well-stocked seasoning shelf.

Caraway, particularly good on sauerkraut and pork, goes on breads, and in cheese dips and spreads.

Cinnamon is the ubiquitous baking spice, going into puddings, sweet sauces, chocolate and fruit desserts.

Cloves go pressed into ham, in fruit desserts, pickles, stews, gravies and cooked with root vegetables.

Ground, cloves go into drinks and baked foods.

Cumin is the spice that goes in chili and curry. Try it in deviled eggs, soups and cheese dishes.

Mace is the pie spice. It's also a common spice in pound cake, sweet vegetables, chowders and creamed spinach or chicken.

Mustard seed gives pungent taste to pickles and salads.

Nutmeg is another popular baking spice, going into cakes, cookies, pies, pudding, over eggnog, custards, lemon desserts and vegetables.

Paprika, the "garish spice," flavors Welsh rarebit, Hungarian dishes, sour cream dips and cream soups.

Black pepper, probably the most common spice, goes into and over everything, including cookies and cakes.

White pepper is the spice to use in light colored sauces and soups.

Saffron, a sensationally expensive spice, needs only a few threads to flavor a whole pot of food. It lends a lovely golden color to rice, chicken and seafood.

Turmeric is similar to saffron, adding the same golden yellow color.

Tea for teachers at St. Margaret Mary

The Ladies Club of St. Margaret Mary honored the teachers during their October meeting. The "teachers tea" was hosted by Stella Tegel and Mickey Strack.

The club's officers, President Karen Costello, Vice-President Nancy Miller, Secretary Judy Bucatch and Treasurer Gloria Kasprohovich served tea, coffee and other refreshments to 54 members.

Members then gathered at the various tables, according to their child's grade. Bunko was enjoyed by all. The prizes for each grade were awarded to the respective teacher.

Teachers in attendance were: Becky Alvarado, Sophia Kaczmarek, Mary McKay, Sister Marilyn Therese, Analee Reeves, Mary Frances Barick, Marian Kuran, Laurie Ratliffe, Sister Marie Monica, Sister Elizabeth, Sister Charlotte and Sister Josella.

Next meeting will be at 6:30 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 13, when Schnucks will present "A Luncheon Is Served."

Edward J. Byrnes married 35 years

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Byrnes, 4028 Maryville Road, were honored by family and friends with a dinner-dance on the occasion of their 35th wedding anniversary.

The event was arranged as a surprise to the honorees in the Officers' Club at the Granite City Army Installation.

Hosting the gathering were the couple's children, Mrs. John (Diane) Gonterman and Edward Byrnes Jr., both of Granite City, John Byrnes of Goodyear, Ariz., Thomas Byrnes of Bollingbrook, Ill., David Byrnes of Chesterfield, Mo., and their respective spouses.

Mr. and Mrs. Byrnes were married Oct. 30, 1944, at the St. Mary Gate of Heaven Church in New York City.

Mrs. Byrnes is the former Miss Muriel Fox.

Her husband has been employed for more than 25 years as a clerk with the Burlington & Northern Railroad.

They have 10 grandchildren, and the oldest grandchild, Paul Gonterman, was in charge of the guest book.

The club rooms were appropriately decorated for the party, with coral and white used as the predominant colors.

After dinner, music for dancing was played by the Wayne Scannell Band.

The numerals "35," outlined in coral, were suspended above the bandstand.

A three-tier wedding cake was the focal point of the serving table.

Over 100 family members and friends attended the surprise event, including Mr. and Mrs. Michael Tapp of Hermann, Mo.

Remodeled areas of SEMC in use; construction continues

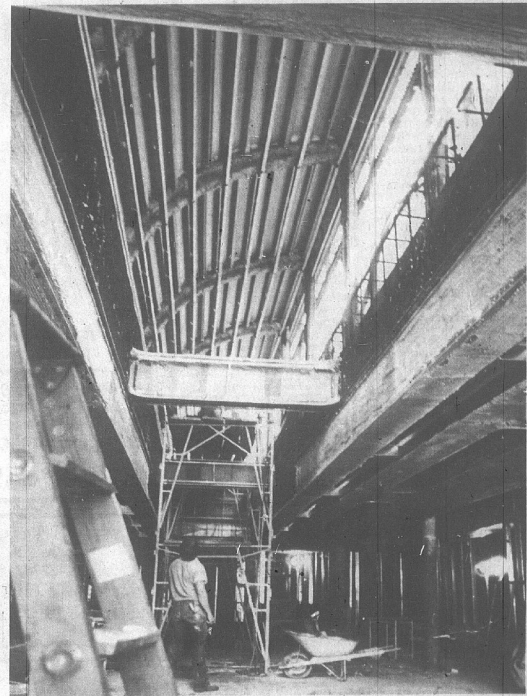

Construction has been in "high gear" at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for several years.

Part of the plan was the remodeling of several areas in the ground floor of the oldest part of the complex adjacent to Madison Avenue.

These areas include the Doctors' Lounge, top left photo, which features a large skylight, reducing the need for artificial lighting. Above is the newly opened medical library, also having a skylight and all new furnishings. At left is the medical records office which is adjacent to the doctors' lounge. This office is visible to passing motorists on Madison Avenue. Modern, black office equipment compliments the wide-open office area.

A new cafeteria is presently under construction, lower left photo; it will have several levels of booths and table areas. Below, workers are seen installing a long, arched skylight in the central area of the new cafeteria, which has a completion target date of late December.

Individualized reading, mathematics instruction

The Venice Title VII Districtwide Advisory Council has elected Mrs. Charlotte Dilday chairman; Mrs. Beatrice Wigfall, assistant chairman; Miss Barbara Bailey, secretary; and Mrs. Joyce Odom, assistant secretary.

Reports were presented about the close-out of the basic and pilot programs for 1978-79. For the new program, Mrs. Linda Cottrell, human relations specialist, discussed activities of the supportive service staff dealing with home visitation, delivery of student handbooks, attendance certificates, special interest meetings with students, and mini-courses in career education.

Miss Margaret McGarrahan reported on the mathematics program. Pretests were given in September and individualized lessons are being prepared for the target students. Miss Barbara Bailey related similar information about the reading program. Lessons are prepared to help the students in small groups.

In both areas, System 80 and the Hoffman machines are used along with varied lessons intended to enrich the learning environment. Mrs. Gratienna Ponce reported on activities of the Student Council and the Student Advisory Council. Members are to visit Sverdrup and Parcel Associates in November.

A report on the Title VI dissemination conference in Chicago explained that the submission guidelines and procedures were discussed for all applicants for 1980-81. The next meeting will be on Thursday, Nov. 8, at 10:20 a.m. in the school library. Althea Cross is the director.

CAR DAMAGED

Vandals poured a liquid that took the paint off the car of J. Hermina Mangiaracino, 2245 Lee Ave., while it was parked at 845 Alton Ave., Madison, it was reported to Madison police. The incident occurred between 9 and 11:30 p.m. Thursday. The liquid, which ate through the paint to the metal, was poured on the hood, trunk and both sides, police said.

Regional Council speaker

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council will hold the 14th annual dinner meeting of its General Assembly on Tuesday, Nov. 13, at 6:30 p.m. at Buckley's Ramada Inn, Interstate 64 at Route 159, Fairview Heights.

State catastrophic illness plan is being developed

Catastrophic health insurance and other major health issues were the subject of an address by the state's top medical spokesman last night.

Dr. John Seward, president of the 14,300-member Illinois State Medical Society (ISMS), was the featured speaker at a dinner meeting of the Madison County Medical Society, held at the Sunset Hills Country Club.

Dr. Seward discussed both state and federal proposals aimed at protecting patients against the cost of catastrophic illness.

He focused on ISMS-backed legislation recently signed into law by Gov. James R. Thompson — that creates a state commission to assess the need, structure and possible funding methods for a state-level catastrophic plan.

The ISMS president also addressed the controversial physician advertising issue and the Society's push for establishment of a coordinated, regionalized blood banking system in Illinois.

Dr. Seward's appearance was part of the annual ISMS "president's tour" which will take him throughout the state during his term of office.

Dr. Seward, of Rockford, began his one-year term as president of the Illinois State Medical Society in May. A family practitioner, he is a diplomate of the American Board of Family Practice and a fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians.

He is medical director of Rockford Memorial Hospital's Alcohol Treatment and Education Program and is a member of the Society for Teachers of Family Medicine and the American Occupational Medical Association.

Dr. Seward is a member of the Illinois State Cost Containment Committee, a joint ISMS-Illinois Hospital Association group charged with implementing the Voluntary Effort to contain health costs.

A former member of the ISMS board of trustees, he also served on the board of governors of the Illinois State Medical Inter-Insurance Exchange — the physician-owned insurance company created by ISMS to provide malpractice coverage.

Dr. Seward is a member of the board of directors of the Winnebago County Medical Society and two affiliated organizations — the Blackhawk Area Medical Association and the Blackhawk Area Individual Practice Association.

He received his medical degree from the University of Illinois College of Medicine.

North students donate 129 units of blood

Granite City High School North students contributed 129 pints of blood Monday to the Red Cross.

The blood donations are on a voluntary basis by students who are 17 years of age and over.

The event is sponsored each year by the Student Council which will hold another blood drive in April.

"I was very pleased with the turn out of our students," Steve Hamilton adviser to the Student Council said.

"The members of the council worked very hard and Sue Basarich, chairman of the event, did an excellent job."

STEREO IS STOLEN

John Arnett, 2135 Monroe St., took his $300 stereo system to the home of Darrell Schrader, 2215 Grand Ave., for a party during the weekend and during the early morning hours after the party, someone kicked open the basement door of Schrader's home and stole the stereo.

"We have a fine group of students here at North and I think their support of a worthwhile cause such as the blood drive proves it," Hamilton said.

The next student council sponsored project will be the annual Christmas basket drive for families in need Hamilton said.

Bar stool thrown; two men arrested

Martin R. Savala, 21, Fairview Heights, was charged with criminal damage to property in a state complaint and Gary T. Urlosie, 22, of 5342 Lakeview Drive, Pontoon Beach, was charged with criminal damage to property, resisting arrest and disorderly conduct following a disturbance last week at the 18th Street Lounge, 18th and State streets.

The bartender told police two men were refused service and became unruly. A bar stool was thrown over the bar, breaking a large mirror and several bottles of liquor, it was reported.

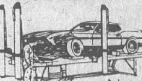

The two men left in a pickup truck which was stopped by Madison police at 12th and Reynolds streets in Madison and the men were returned to Granite City officers.

At the police station, Urlosie allegedly refused to give officers his name and threatened them. When he allegedly pushed one officer, force was used to subdue him and put him in a jail cell, officers said.

Big energy cutback by telephone company

Illinois Bell in 1978 used 7.2 percent less energy than it did in 1973, the year of the oil embargo, despite a 22.4 percent growth in total telephone service.

The company's energy savings are equivalent to 20 million gallons of fuel oil or 84 million kilowatts of electricity, or 23.8 million gallons of gasoline a year.

Those 23.8 million gallons of gasoline would operate the company's 7,900-vehicle fleet for more than three years.

"We are developing energy-saving contingency plans for every segment of our business," said Ron Aldridge, division manager for automotive operations, who heads up the company's Energy Policy Committee.

"We are looking at everything from computer control in our buildings to reassigning employees to work locations nearer their homes to cut down on travel."

Aldridge said Illinois Bell and the Bell System went on a "zero energy growth" status in 1973 and are currently using less energy than they did six years ago although business has grown.

"We have more buildings, many more miles of cable, and more vehicles," Aldridge said. "We also serve more telephones. The number of phones increased by 1,511,029 from 1973 to the end of 1978."

The downward trend in energy consumption has continued into the current year. For the first six months of 1979, energy consumption was 2.6 percent below the 1978 level.

Aldridge pointed out, however, that despite the overall decrease in energy usage, costs have nearly doubled since 1973. "For every dollar we spent on energy in 1973, the cost was $1.75 in 1978," he said.

In 1973, Illinois Bell used 972,000 barrels of oil to heat its more than 400 buildings. In 1978, with a six percent increase in space, the company's oil consumption was down by more than 233,000 barrels, or 24 percent.

The main weapon in Illinois Bell's energy-saving program has been BEMARR—the Building Energy Management and Redesign Retrofit. The program calls for engineers to go over buildings from basement to roof to determine which systems should be changed for more energy efficiency.

Energy usage is expected to be reduced by 30 percent or more when the company completes the BEMARR process.

BEMARR operates in conjunction with BESIS—the Building Equipment Status Indicating System—which monitors a building's vital functions and reports them to a central control room.

The BESIS computer can remotely turn equipment on and off, lower building temperatures and regulate machinery. It shuts down fans in buildings where personnel have left for the day. It can open and close dampers to take advantage of outside temperature for heating or cooling.

Regular fluorescent bulbs are giving way to newly developed bulbs that use less energy but give off as much light. Night cleaning personnel work in crews so that only a few floors are lit at once.

Most of the boilers in the company's Chicago buildings have been converted to use either gas or oil, whichever is more plentiful. Wherever feasible, vans are being replaced with subcompact vehicles.

In order to implement its new energy conservation program, Illinois Bell will place a "resident manager" in each of its buildings beginning in November. They will be responsible for controlling the building environment and implementing other parts of the energy conservation program.

The company's use of electrical energy for cooling and lighting and operating computers had declined by 9.1 percent from 1973 to 1978 and is still dropping. It used only 310 million kilowatts of electricity in 1978 compared to 340 million kilowatts in 1973.

Illinois Bell also uses less energy today to switch calls on the telephone network. In 1973, more than 1,275,000 kilowatts of energy were used to send almost 33 million calls a business day. Five years later, there are 27 percent more calls using only 20 percent more power than in 1973.

Mileage per gallon of gasoline has increased from 9.2 mpg per vehicle in 1973 to 9.6 mpg in 1978. The improvement is due to improved maintenance procedures and advanced training for drivers.

In addition to switching to subcompacts as the older and larger vehicles are retired, the company has a new program, called "The Driving Difference," which teaches Illinois Bell's 7,000 regular drivers to change wasteful habits, such as engine idling and jackrabbit starts.

During the past nine months, Illinois Bell has been using gasoline in a controlled experiment in Peoria involving 30 company vehicles. The tests, which will be completed in December, seek to determine the effect of gasoline on mileage and maintenance costs.

Results will not be known until the end of the tests, but preliminary results from the first six months indicate that vehicles using gasoline experienced fewer maintenance problems and attained better mileage than vehicles using regular gasoline, Aldridge said.

"Lack of motor vehicle and heating fuel in the future may force us to redesign how services are delivered, how work is assigned, and even the hours employees work or the locations they serve," he added.

He said a severe gasoline shortage might force the company to deliver services to selected communities on certain days of the week, just as some stores now schedule deliveries on a geographical basis.

Predicting that world supplies of energy will be tighter and more expensive in the future, Illinois Bell planners see no promising, short-term energy solutions.

Based on this outlook, the company's new energy policy envisions a 13 percent reduction in energy use by 1984.

"We are not predicting any major shortages of energy at Illinois Bell in the near future," Aldridge said, "but we are laying contingency plans should we need them."

Zoning boards to meet

The Granite City Board of Appeals will meet Wednesday, Nov. 14, in the city offices at 2301 Adams St., and the city's Plan Commission will meet Thursday, Nov. 15, in the city council chambers in city hall. Both meetings begin at 1:15 p.m.

The Board of Appeals will consider a request by Dean Heflin, 2432 Kilarney Drive, to construct a two-car garage 2½ feet from his side property line.

The Plan Commission is to consider a request from Miss Mun Young Chong for C-1 commercial zoning for a business office at 2815 Madison Ave., rather than the current R-3 residential zoning.

Both boards will make their recommendations to the Granite City Council, which will take official action to grant or deny the requests.

Defer tuition policy action

Reservations and concerns about proposed revisions in the Illinois Board of Higher Education's tuition policy for Illinois public universities were voiced by SIU Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw Tuesday at a BHE meeting in Chicago.

The BHE agreed to defer action on the tuition policy proposal until its December meeting.

Dr. Shaw said the proposed policy is "a positive step which should assist students, parents, and universities in their planning," but he emphasized there has been little opportunity for it to be studied by governing boards, system offices, institutions and constituents.

The proposal submitted by the BHE staff Tuesday followed a paper describing tuition policy alternatives for public universities that was first discussed by the Board of Higher Education at its October meeting.

Dr. Shaw also suggested that tuition policy should be considered with other matters relating to student access and choice, including financial aid to students, grants to nonpublic institutions, and program availability.

"I submit that the four matters are not separate entities but parts of an organic whole," the SIU chancellor said. "Treating them separately will not produce a comprehensive and coherent philosophy and set of goals for access and choice in the 1980s."

The basic recommendation in the BHE proposal is that the level of tuition being charged in this fiscal year by Illinois public universities should be considered the standard for future years, except for adjustments necessary to meet inflationary cost increases.

In its second recommendation, the BHE proposes that inflationary cost increases would be determined by the annual change in the Higher Education Price Index.

Acknowledging that lowering or eliminating tuition in the decade ahead is an unrealistic goal, Chancellor Shaw suggested that Recommendation No. 2 should read as follows:

"The level of tuition for fiscal year 1981 should be based on the current level, adjusted for changes in costs as measured by the most recent calculation of the annual change in the Higher Education Price Index. During the current fiscal year, the staff—with the involvement of representatives of the governing boards and the institutions—will conduct a study to determine what index is the best to use in future years."

Dr. Shaw explained that a basic consideration in setting tuition levels is whether the aim is to hold student costs as low as possible, or to maximize university income.

He said tying increases to the Higher Education Price Index (HEPI) is probably an acceptable compromise between cost to the student and university income. But he suggested that in the future, an opportunity be given for the higher education community to determine priorities and then agree on the most appropriate index for setting tuition increases.

Other indices which might be considered, he said, would include the Consumer Price Index, which is usually higher than the HEPI and would probably tend to maximize income, or tying income to Illinois General Revenue Funds, which are generally below the inflation rate and would probably tend to hold down the cost to the student.

Dr. Shaw said he also believes such matters as the two percent limitation on tuition waivers and the level of nonresident tuition, as well as the Financial Assistance Act for Nonpublic Institutions of Higher Learning and the Illinois

State Scholarship Commission and its policies, need to be reexamined in determining tuition policy for the 1980s.

The SIU chancellor agrees with the BHE's third recommendation, which sets a ceiling for tuition rates at one-third of instructional costs, but he urged a change in the fourth recommendation to provide specifically: "For FY 1981, the appropriation for Illinois State Scholarship Commission Monetary Awards should be increased to offset the impact of the tuition increase on needy students."

Dr. Shaw also commented on another of the BHE's recommendations which proposes: "Public university tuition revenues should not be appropriated by the State of Illinois."

He said: "It is an interesting concept, to which the governor has given some support. If it is meant seriously, then you should recognize that achieving it will require a carefully coordinated effort on the part of the entire higher education community, and others as well."

In conclusion, the chancellor urged the BHE not to make "piecemeal adjustments" in the Board's Master Plan for Higher Education in Illinois. "So that we end up with a patchwork of policies, guidelines and statutes to govern access and choice in the 1980s."

He said, rather, be as careful and deliberate in making revisions as we were in developing the Master Plan," he said.

Mistrial in murder case

After 11 hours of deliberations, a Madison County Circuit Court jury in the murder trial of 17-year-old Norman Pierre Pitt was declared deadlocked by Associate Judge Philip J. Rarick and a mistrial was declared.

Pitt was on trial for allegedly shooting Jacqueline Shipley, 19, St. Louis, twice in the head with a .32 caliber pistol and then leaving her body on McKinley Bridge in Venice Jan. 27.

In a March 21 confession which was allowed into evidence, Pitt allegedly said Miss Shipley had arranged to leave him shot first. He was shot in the leg a week prior to Miss Shipley's murder.

Miss Shipley's auto was found on the Missouri side of the bridge a short time after the body was found. The alleged murder weapon was in the car, police said.

Miss Shipley's mother was arrested Wednesday, Oct. 31, in the courtroom during the trial for allegedly bringing a loaded weapon into the courtroom. Rarick ordered rows of the arrest suppressed, so it did not prejudice the jury. Ruby Louise Shipley, 39, St. Louis, was charged with failure to have a firearm owner's identification card and two counts of unlawful use of a weapon after a matron searching spectators at the trial allegedly found a .22 caliber revolver in her purse. She said she did not know how it got into the purse, authorities said.

A new trial for Pitt is expected to be set for later this year, according to Rarick.

Warriors mission: Keep the spirit

The Sporting Thing

GRANITE CITY — The mood of the non-aligned around the state seems to be one that suggests either Granite City South will sweep through the IHSA State Soccer Tournament at Palatine High School this weekend, or the Warriors will be ousted in the first game.

The feeling among most of the coaches I've talked to is that South should have no trouble at all. In fact, Granite City North coach Bob Kehoe called it a "foregone conclusion" that South should win the title for the fourth straight year. Some of the sportswriters around the state seem to think that it's time for some other team to carry home the hardware.

But nobody is willing to pin down a team they think will do the job. So, have suggested Hinkley-Big Rock, winner of 22 straight games this season before suffering a loss in round-robin sectional play. But South handled Hinkley 2-0 early this season.

In fact, the 22-game streak began upon Hinkley's return to the safety of northern Illinois turf after suffering setbacks at the hands of not only South, but also Belleville West and Cahokia on a Southern Illinois swing.

Some have mentioned New Trier East. Coach Tony Shinto's group annually is one of the tops in the state. But South (minus two starters at the time) managed to tie the Indians earlier this year. Granite City North manhandled the Indians 5-0.

The school nobody has mentioned to me, but one I think is the one to watch out for is Wheaton Central. South's first round opponent. The Tigers have a 20-3-1 record and resemble the 1977 South squad in the way they score a large number of their goals.

You see, the Tigers have a 6-5 striker by the name of Tim Janeway who has scored 32 goals this season — most of them on head balls. Shades of South's Greg Feigl. The 6-4 Feigl led the state in scoring in '77 when he popped in over 30 goals.

Wheaton Central is a quick team, one that doesn't need a lot of time to set up a score. So is South. Wheaton has a nifty playmaker in Tom Wilson, who has over 20 assists. Remind you of South's David Fernandez?

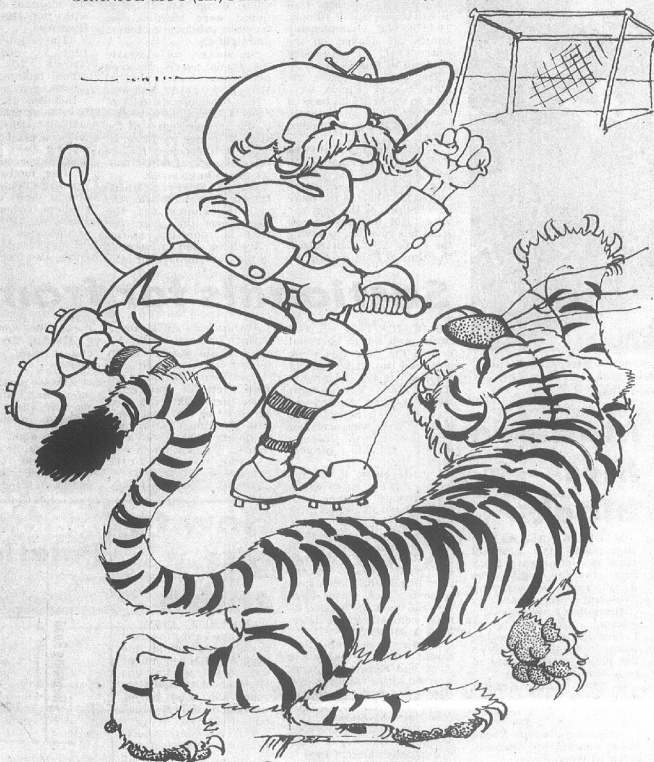

But I'm not saying the Tigers will win the state championship. I don't think they will. But I do think the winner of

GRANITE CITY (ILL.) PRESS-RECORD, Thursday, Nov. 8, 1979 — 27

From Staff Reports

GRANITE CITY — The day is almost here, the day when the Granite City South soccer Warriors will find out if this is really 1976, '77 and '78 all over again.

If the Warriors can win Friday's 7:30 p.m. State Quarterfinal matchup against the Wheaton Central Tigers at Palatine High School, the pattern will be nearing completion and everything will be almost as it was then.

History does have a way of repeating itself.

Remember 1976? That was the year South started its string of three consecutive state soccer championships by breezing through the finals at Maine East High School in Park Ridge. That Warrior team shut out all three of its state final opponents en route to the championship. The scores were: South 1, Lake Forest 0; South 2, Highland Park 0; and South 4, Wheaton Central 0. Ah yes, Wheaton Central. That name has come up more than once in South's travels to the various state tournament sites. In 1977, South defeated Wheaton 2-1 in the semifinals at Huskie Stadium at Northern Illinois University in DeKalb. On its way to the state crown that season, South also beat New Trier East 2-1 in the first round and Chicago Schurz 6-1 in the championship game.

"We're in pretty good shape," said South coach Gene Baker of this year's team. "Once we get this far, though, anything can happen."

Last season, South used a tenacious defense to help it shut out three straight foes once again. The Warriors beat Evanston Township 2-0 in the championship match in Hancock Stadium at Illinois State University in Normal-Bloomington.

This season, South has come from nowhere to the pinnacle. After a shaky start early in the season, the Warriors have managed to put together a 21-5-4 record, including an 11-game unbeaten streak, marred only by a scoreless tie with Cahokia Oct. 18. The last team to beat South was Missouri powerhouse Rosary High, 3-2 in overtime Oct. 10. South has lost one less game this season than it did the previous three seasons combined (six). South finished at 26-1-1 in 1976, was 22-4-4 in 1977 and 25-4-1 last season. The Warriors are 95-11-10 over the past four seasons.

The South-Wheaton Central game will be the final quarterfinal round contest. Earlier in the day, Park Ridge (Maine South) will play Chicago. At 9:30 a.m., Winnetka (New Trier East) will play Chicago (Quigley South) at 11:30 a.m. and Skokie (Niles North) will face Hinkley-Big Rock at 5:30 p.m.

To prepare for their game Friday night, the Warriors have been practicing all week under the lights at South. The recent drop in temperature hasn't hurt the cause either. "It's been

On page 28:

- Sectional wrap-up
- The finals at a high school?
- How to get there getting colder here lately," said Baker. "But that's alright. It'll be a lot colder than this in Chicago."

Wheaton Central could have a slight edge on the Warriors in that the Tigers have played on the Palatine High School field once this season (Sept. 18). "I don't think I'll make any difference whether or not we have played on the field before or not," he said. "A soccer field is a soccer field. This one is a little more narrow than most, but I'm sure South has played on some just as narrow."

Baker and his team left for Palatine this morning at 10 o'clock and stopped in DeKalb to have a brief workout at Northern Illinois University. Baker said his thinking in regard to leaving a day early was to give his team a good night's rest before the tournament began.

All-star Randy DeRousse was injured last week in the second game of the Granite North round-robin Sectional. Quincy's Orville Rudd accidentally stepped on DeRousse's left ankle while the two were scrambling for a loose ball.

"The ankle's not broken," said Baker. "Randy didn't play Saturday (in the final game against Alton), because we didn't have him to go to state. But it was sprained, so we held him out."

Health-wise, Baker feels his team is in good shape. "I think Randy will be able to play and nobody else has any other serious injuries."

South lost to only two Illinois teams this season. The Warriors fell to Alton 2-1 and lost to Granite City North 1-0 in overtime. Other losses have been to three Missouri teams, Vianney, Rosary and McClure North. The four losses have included three scoreless ones — with Granite City North, Belleville West and Cahokia. The other deadlock came in the second game of the season 1-1 against New Trier East.

New Trier East is one of two schools in the finals that South has faced this season. The other is Hinkley-Big Rock, which South disposed of 2-0 in the seventh game of the season. If both South and Hinkley win their games Friday, the tiebreaker will be the second game of the season. The championship game is set for 7:30 that night.

State final tickets

GRANITE CITY — Tickets for the Illinois State Soccer Tournament will be sold at the gate only. There will be no advance ticket sales at Granite City High School South for its team's game Friday night at 7:30 against Wheaton Central, according to Principal James Dumont.

Tickets for each session of the tournament are priced at $2 each (adults as well as students). Each session, except the championship game, will involve two games. A "permanent" pass, good for all sessions, is priced at $5.

Plans are being made for a student fan bus Friday for the team's game. South students interested may sign up at school. The price for the bus is $16.50 per student. Any student who rides the bus up to the game must return to the bus, according to Dumont. The fan bus will return to Granite City immediately after the conclusion of the game. Because of the time involved in traveling the distance between Granite City and Chicago, there will be no fan bus Saturday.

This marks the fifth straight year South has been involved in the state finals. The Warriors have won the state championship the past three years.

In 1976, South defeated Wheaton Central 4-0 in the title match. In 1977, the Warriors downed Chicago Schurz 6-1 for the crown. Last season, South beat Evanston Township 2-0 in the championship game at Hancock Stadium on the campus of Illinois State University in Normal.

The tournament is being held at Palatine High School this season. Palatine is located in Cook County and is a northwest suburb of Chicago.

MIKE ROBERTSON shows the form that helped him score three goals against Cahokia in Granite City North's 5-0 romp over the Comanches. The victory gave North undisputed claim of the Gateway East Conference Championship. North finished its season with a 19-3-2 record.

Steelers in Gateway crown with 5-0 rout

GRANITE CITY — It didn't take long for Cahokia High School's soccer team to realize it was up against an inspired team here Wednesday. In fact, Cahokia was never really in the game as Granite City North finished its 1979 season with a 5-0 thrashing of the Comanches and the Gateway East Conference championship to boot.

The game was a re-make of an earlier postponement and was necessary to determine whether North would own the loop title outright or have to share it with Granite South. The issue was never in doubt.

Steeler forward Mike Robertson closed out a magnificent high school career by scoring his team's first three goals. The game was also highlighted by a record-breaking performance from graduating senior North's Mark Jones.

Jones scored his 23rd goal of the season in the fourth quarter to set a school scoring mark — breaking the old record of 22 set by Eric Painter in 1977. North's other goal was scored by Kenny Myracle — his first of the year. And it came none too soon for his teammates.

There were only 14 seconds left in the game when he scored.

"They (the Steelers) were trying awful hard to try and get Kenny a goal," said North coach Bob Kehoe. "It was his first of the season."

Robertson's first goal came with the help of a gusting wind, blowing from goal to goal. In the area in front of the Cahokia goal, Robertson, with his back to the goal, lofted a pass over his back. The wind grabbed the ball and put it into the goal, over the stunned Cahokia keeper's head. It came in the first quarter.

Later in the period, Robertson took a centering pass from teammate Bob Batey and slammed it into the goal for a 2-0 lead. He got his third goal "trick" before the half ended.

Taking a corner kick directly in front of the goal, Robertson headed the ball into the far right hand corner of the net.

"We were having a good time," said Kehoe. "Since we had been eliminated from the playoffs earlier (in overtime 1-0 by Collinsville), I was concerned with the team being down a bit."

"But when we practiced last Monday, I was amazed at the way the guys performed. They were loose and free. But they were playing good soccer at the same time."

"That sort of makes me wonder about the pressure these kids are placed under during the season and playoffs," he said. "Before the game, I just told the team to recapture what they had Monday. It was no contest."

The Cahokia team North trounced was no bunch of pushovers, either. Earlier in the season, they tied both North and Granite South 0-0 and were beaten by South 0-2. But the second time around against the Steelers, the Comanches couldn't hold a candle.

After a scoreless third quarter, Jones scored his record-setting goal on a breakaway unassisted early in the fourth. Then came Myracle's late score.

"We just out-played the heck out of them," said Kehoe. "They were having fun out there."

With the win, North closed out its season with a 19-3-2 record, 6-0-2 in the GEC.

Going into the season, Kehoe and his team had high aspirations. "We all had high hopes," said Kehoe. "We had a lot of talent and we knew it."

"We got out of the gate fast and played well most of the time," he said. "But there were a couple of times we didn't play as well. Unfortunately, one of those times was when it really counted."

But Kehoe's team realized its full potential. "I think all of us, we played up to our potential most of the time," he said. "When you only lose three ball games all season, that's not too bad."

North will be hit hard by graduation this spring. Nine seniors doffed the Steelers' starting lineup. But Kehoe isn't disheartened about next season. "We'll have a respectable team," he said. "We've got a good group of freshmen this season and some other good underclassmen."

Kehoe speaks with pride of the superb play of his Steelers. "This had to be one of the most coachable groups I've ever had," he said.

"I want to see how many want his team to progress faster than it's capable of. But these guys handled it well. They're a super group of kids and I'll miss them. I've had some of them on the varsity level for four solid years."

One of the brightest surprises on the North squad this season was the brilliant play of goalie Tracy Hickam. The senior keeper had never played goalie until practice began in August. But he stepped in to fill the starting role left open when last year's starter Tony Pierce transferred to South.

"Tracy has 13 shutouts. That's not bad at all for someone who had never played goalie," said Kehoe. "What he did was tremendous. Most of his progress was because of hard work by himself, plus some help by Rick DeMaree (a North all-state player in 1976). I was satisfied."

Cougars, Mustangs deadlock

EDWARDSVILLE — Despite a first half goal by Matt Malloy, the winning goal-scorer in the Cougars' victory over St. Louis University last Friday in the Bronze Boot game, the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer team had to settle for a tie here Tuesday with the highly-ranked Mustangs of Southern Methodist University, 1-1 at Cougar Field.

Malloy tallied an unassisted goal, 22-40, in the first half, but SMU tied it later in the period. Mustang Nasser Sabetpour knotted the score at the 35:15 mark.

The Mustangs equalized in the second half, but the score remained tied.

SIUE outshot Southern Methodist 14-10 in the first overtime period, but the Cougars had two shots hit the cross bar of the goal.

SIUE outshot Southern Methodist 14-13, had the edge in corner kicks 10-4 and had one more foul than the Mustangs. SIUE committed 29 infractions.

SLUGFEST. Madison's Tracy Champion (left) and Collinsville's Julie Canull both are ready for a spike Tuesday night at Madison. Collinsville defeated the Trojanettes in two games, 20-9 and 20-10. Wednesday, Madison bounced back with a three-game win over Wood River.

How a high school got the state meet

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The state finals in just about every sport are a loaded with pomp and ceremony. The basketball finals are held in the beautiful Assembly Hall at the University of Illinois. The football championship games are played on the Astro-Truf at Hancock Stadium at Illinois State.

The past two years, the State Soccer Finals were held on the artificial turfs at Northern Illinois University (1977) and Hancock Stadium (1978). After being played at Park Ridge, Maine East High School in 1978, the Illinois High School Association moved the finals to the more suitable places the past two years. But this season, the IHSA has reverted to having the finals at a high school, this time at Palatine High in suburban Cook County. How did this happen?

"It's a board decision," said IHSA Executive Secretary Lavere Astroth. "It's made in the spring and several things are taken into consideration."

The things Astroth mentioned were location, the facilities available to teams and lighting.

"In soccer, we alternate the finals yearly between northern and central Illinois," said Astroth. "That's because the bulk of schools playing the sport are in the northern parts of the state. It's done for financial reasons. It's cheaper for one school to travel north than for seven to go south."

Astroth said that Northern Illinois University was the original choice for the tournament this year, but that a conflict arose. "Northern had a football game scheduled for the Saturday of the meet and the wouldn't change it," he said. "So we had to find an alternate."

According to Astroth, schools and universities may request that their site be considered for the finals, but the ultimate decision rests with the IHSA Board of Directors.

"The facilities at Palatine High are excellent," said Astroth. "It's a new high school building with great athletic provisions."

Included at Palatine are two soccer practice fields, a softball-baseball diamond and a baseball diamond, four playing fields that can be used for soccer, field hockey or flag football, a soccer practice field, six tennis courts and the football stadium (where the state finals will be held), seating around 5,000.

Palatine soccer coach Rod Gibbs also feels his school's stadium is adequate for the finals. "There is ample parking and plenty of practice area," he said. "And the 5,000 seats should be plenty."

In past years, the bulk of the fans attending the tournament have been from Granite City, even though it meant a much farther drive for them than for the fans from northern Illinois. Gibbs feels that might be different this year, since the meet is being held in just about everybody's back yard.

If Gibbs' team had made it to the finals, it would have meant that one of the eight finalists would have a home-field advantage. The odds may have been against that happening, but it almost did. Palatine came "within 44 seconds" of going to the finals, according to Gibbs.

Sectionals far from boring

BLOOMINGTON — The seven prep soccer sectional around the state last week produced the all but one of the finalists for the annual IHSA State Tournament which begins Friday at Palatine High School. The other was determined Tuesday in Chicago Public League playoff match.

In some cases, it was far from clear-cut as to which teams would advance until all the dust had settled after the finals Saturday.

All sectionals in the state were conducted on a round-robin basis. The team with the best won-lost record after three games advanced.

In some cases, teams were tied and had to go to head-to-head competition to determine a winner.

In the Lake Park Sectional, both Hinkley-Big Rock and Naperville North finished with 2-1 records. But Hinkley-Big Rock defeated Naperville 4-1 in the second round and advanced.

In the New Trier West Sectional, New Trier East had to defeat Lake Forest in the final game to advance, since it had a tie on its journey record (2-2 with West) and Lake Forest was unbeaten. East did win the game, but it took four overtime periods to emerge with a 2-1 victory.

Both Forest View and Maine South had 2-1 records in the Forest View Sectional, but Maine South emerged by virtue of its 4-0 victory in the first round over the host team. Palatine High School came close to advancing, but lost a 1-0 lead in the last 44 seconds and eventually lost to Forest View in three overtimes Saturday. Palatine would have gone to the tournament because it had earlier beaten Maine South 2-0.

At Hinsdale Central, three teams finished with 2-1 records. But Quigley South scored 10 goals in the tournament compared to nine each for LaGrange Lyons and Oak Park and advanced on that basis.

At Wheaton Central, the host team finished with a 3-0 record. Hinsdale South was 2-1, losing to Wheaton 2-1 the first game.

In the Maine East Sectional, Niles North finished 3-0. Gordon Tech was the closest team with a 1-1-1 mark.

Tuesday past, Bowen High won the Public League playoff with a 3-0 win over Harrison in the semifinals.

Of the eight finalists this weekend at the state tourney in Palatine, Granite City scored the most goals in the sectional tournament

(12). Quigley South's 10 was next-highest. Next were Maine South and Hinkley-Big Rock with eight each, Niles North with seven, Wheaton Central six and New Trier East five.

Maine South allowed no goals in the three games. Granite South and Wheaton Central one each, Niles North two, New Trier East three, Hinkley four and Quigley South five.

Althoff advances in Class 4A

SPRINGFIELD — The Belleville Althoff football Crusaders, winners of the Gateway East Conference, took their first step toward the state Class 4A high school championship here Wednesday with a rousing 27-14 victory over Capitol Conference champion Springfield Griffin.

The victory for Althoff means that it will advance to the quarterfinals Saturday, Nov. 10 at home against Peoria Richards. The Peoria school lambasted Big 12 Conference champ Champaign Central 13-0 at home. Richards plays in the Mid-State 10 Conference.

In Class 2A action, unbeaten East St. Louis Assumption, the champ of the Quad County Conference advanced with a 20-0 pasting of previously undefeated Carlinville. Assumption will play at Marshall Saturday in the quarterfinals. Marshall (10-0) whipped Christopher 21-0.

In Class 3A, Alton Marquette was whipped by Macomb 27-6. Macomb will face Geneseo Darnall, 28-0 winner over Hersher. Also in Class 3A, Mississippi Valley champ Mascoutah beat Taylorville 23-14. Mascoutah will host Metamora Saturday in the quarterfinals Saturday. Metamora shut out Apollo. Conference runner-up Mount Zion 26-0. Elsewhere in 3A, Apollo champ Charleston crushed North Egypt champ Mount Carmel 46-14 and South Seven champ Harrisburg beat Southwest Egyptian winner Murphysboro 27-7.

Charleston will be at Harrisburg Saturday.

In Class 5A, unbeaten Southwestern Conference champ East St. Louis shut out New Lenox Lincoln-Way on the road 36-0 and will host Oak Lawn Richards Saturday. Richards edged Chicago Marist 12-7.

The semifinals are scheduled for Nov. 17, with the state finals Nov. 24 at Hancock Stadium at Illinois State University.

Bowl for Breath here

The Cystic Fibrosis "Bowl for Breath" will take place at the weekend after Thanksgiving on Nov. 23, Friday, and on Nov. 24, Saturday, at 123 bowling centers in the two state areas. Both Bowland and Brunswick Tri-Mor bowl in Granite City are participating in the event.

Each bowling center should be contacted for specific details. "It is through the generosity of the bowling center owners, proprietors, and managers that the bowl-a-thon is conducted at a time when most children and adults can participate," reported Jack Buck. A participant should first pick up a sponsor sheet at a participating McDonald's restaurant, bowling center, KSHE radio in St. Louis, or the following radio stations: WTAO in Murphysboro, Ill.; KGMO in Cape Girardeau, KICK in Springfield, and KFMZ in Columbia, Mo.

The individual then asks his or her parents, neighbors, friends, relatives, etc., to pledge one cent per pin that he or she will knock down in three games of bowling. The total number of sponsors with pledges collected from determine the prize a person may win. "This year the procedure and method to win a prize has been improved to benefit the bowlers," Gateway Foundation chairman Jack Buck mentioned, "and any prize can be won simply by signing up the number of sponsors needed to get that particular prize."

Once the participant has bowled, he or she returns to the sponsors and collects the pledges. The monies are then mailed to the bank by check or money order in an envelope which will be provided with additional information that is given to the person at the time they bowl. All pledges must be mailed to the bank no later than Dec. 16.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL BYRD, who exchanged wedding vows at St. Joseph Catholic Church. The bride is the former Miss Lynn Walck, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walck of Granite City. (Greenwald Photo)

Lynn Walck is bride of Michael W. Byrd

Altar bouquets of autumn flowers decorated St. Joseph Catholic Church as Miss Lynn Walck became the bride of Michael W. Byrd. Father Jim Wasser performed the double ring ceremony Sept. 21.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walck, 2501 Angela Drive. The groom is the son of Mrs. Norene Byrd, 3227 Westchester Drive.

Organist Jack Jenkins accompanied soloist Karen Kline. Songs were "Mat-chmaker," "Evergreen," "Do This in Remembrance of Me," "Ave Maria," "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Wedding March."

The bride's ivory qiana gown was designed with an Empire bodice and a high neckline with Brussels and Venise lace trim.

The bodice was set with lace and seed pearls in a V-shape. The cap style sleeves were edged with Venise lace. The dress featured a Wat-teau train.

She wore a fingertip veil edged in lace and secured by a Juliet cap and she carried a colonial bouquet of wheat, butterscotch daisy pom poms, yellow sweetheart roses and ivory ribbon. Miss Margaret Walck, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a toffee colored qiana gown with a pleated skirt and a Queen Anne neckline edged in Venise lace.

Bridesmaids Mrs. Michael Veizer, a sister of the bride, Geri Sudholt and Kathy Loden, cousins of the bride, and Mrs. Keith Lee wore identically styled gowns in peach.

Passenger hurt

Miss Tammy Maykopet, 16, of 1014 West Pontoon Road, was injured when a car in which she was a passenger struck a street sign at West Pontoon and Colonial Drive at 3:50 p.m. Monday.

The driver, Connie Price, 4129 Rode Ave., told police she was turning left from West Pontoon Road onto Colonial Drive when another car came out from Colonial Drive, forcing her to swerve to the right and over the curb. The other car then left the scene.

Miss Maykopet was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where she was treated for an abrasion to her upper lip. She was treated and released.

HURTS BACK, NECK
Peggy Baggett, 16, of 2433 Missouri Ave., suffered pain and stiffness to her back and neck following a weekend auto accident and was treated and released from St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

2 trucks stolen

Thieves abandoned one stolen truck and stole another from Granite City Steel property at 21st and Russell streets. It was discovered Monday.

An R. Dron Electrical Co. pickup truck was stolen from 20th Street and Edwardsville Road during the weekend and was driven through the steel company fence at 21st and Russell streets, where it was abandoned, police were told.

A Process Piping Co. construction trailer at that location then was broken into, damaging the hasp on the door. Two sets of keys were removed, one set to a company pickup truck with a $1,500 gas welder in the back.

That truck, a green 1977 Chevrolet, then was stolen and police believe it was driven out through the same hole in the fence as the Dron truck was driven in.

CAR STOLEN, BURNED

The auto of Ruel E. Summers, Edwardsville, was stolen from the Stearns Auto Sales lot at 3709 Nameoki Road after 6 p.m. Monday and was recovered about 12:30 a.m. Tuesday on Route 3 at Oldenburg Road, near Mitchell. It had been burned.

Mindy Cottrell, 20, of 2318 Iowa St., was injured when her car and the auto of David Meier, 18, of 1612 Clark Ave., collided in front of the Cottrell home at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

Police were told Mindy Cottrell's auto was northbound and turning right into her driveway when the other northbound car began to pass on the right and the two collided.

She suffered pain to her right hand and was X-rayed at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and released.

Wilson School to observe 20th year

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Wilson School, 2400 Wilson Ave., will formally observe the 20th anniversary of its opening with a special program at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 13, at the school.

The event is being arranged by the Wilson Parent-Teacher Association in conjunction with the school's annual open house and parent visitation program.

As part of the 20th anniversary year observance, a committee in charge of the affair is seeking photographs and mementoes from the past two decades pertaining to the school, its faculty and students or activities for display at the open house.

Anyone having such items is asked to contact Virginia Rainwater, at 877-4015.

Other members of the anniversary committee are Sylvia Woods, Patricia Dawes, Charlotte Yarbrough, Denise Schmitz, Brenda Broska and Joan Houston.

Mrs. Rainwater said a special invitation is extended to all former students, faculty members, school employees and PTA members to attend Tuesday night's program.

Operations began at Wilson School in 1959 when Homer A. Huber was president of the Granite City Board of Education and Dr. Harold M. Kaiser was superintendent of schools.

Donald Stucke is the current president of the Granite City School Board and B. J. Davis is now superintendent of schools.

Theodore Vrenick was named principal of the new grade school building and remains as principal today.

Mrs. Vivian Hillen was chosen as school secretary. She also holds the same post on the school's 20th anniversary.

A total of 481 children was enrolled when Wilson School opened its doors.

The figure surged upward to more than 600 during the mid-1960's.

Today, there are 438 pupils attending Wilson School, including Special Education students.

Thirteen classroom teachers, a music teacher, physical education instructor and a nurse constituted the faculty in 1959. The present faculty consists of 14 classroom teachers, six Special Education teachers, remedial reading, resource, learning center and speech teachers, a physical education instructor, vocal music teacher, band teacher and a nurse.

Wilson PTA supporters have taken an active part in the school's program, its growth and service to pupils and the community throughout the 20 years.

The current PTA officer corps includes: Bill Smithson, who is serving his second term in office; Rebecca Chandler, vice president; Linda McGee, secretary; and Cathy Rivenburgh, treasurer.

Wilson classroom teachers are Metella Mason, Susan Doty, Doris Petersen, Virginia Behrens, Bonnie Paschedag, Fawnreba Pyrtle, Mary Barker, Jane Kiburz, Jean Dunn, Donna Lobdell, Maxine Borchers, Mary Ann Tieman, Saron Oviar and Norma Schroeder.

Also on the faculty are: Vivina Dine, Max Speer, Deborah Hackney, Diane Morland, Anne Hildebrand and JoAnne Higgins, Special Education; JoAnne Gunning, remedial reading, Mary Ruth Snelson, resource; Virginia Oram, learning center; Sue Mason, speech; Sandra Bowler, physical education; Mary Rogers, vocal; Alicia Poplachak, band; and Nancy Graf, nurse.

Mrs. Mildred O'Neill is in charge of the cafeteria, a position she has held since the school opened.

Past presidents of Wilson PTA are: Bill Cedar, Harriett Evans and Dorothy Baker, all of whom served two years; Leon LeBlanc, Elizabeth Briggs, Pauline Roberson, Roxie Tolbert, Jack Nelson, Bill Hesselndenz, Joan McKinney, Bob Jones, Dorothy Anderson, the Rev. Eugene Maritt, Pat Scanlan, Muriel Bezlaj, Thomas Teitloff and Linda McGee.

VANDALIZE HOME
Lewis Martin, 38 Wilson Park Lane, left his home last week and returned five hours later to find the exterior of the house had been vandalized. A porch light had been pulled from the wall and thrown through a kitchen window. Eggs were thrown on the front window and obscenities were written on two doors and on a car in the rear yard. A lawn mower also was overturned. A neighbor reported seeing a group of youths around the house shortly after dark.

2 Timothy 4:7

"I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course. I have kept the faith."

This is Paul's testimony near the end of his life. It is important to note Paul's use of words. He emphasized "I have fought, I have finished, I have kept. So should it be with us. We are primarily responsible for staying faithful to our Lord. It is also important to note that he is finishing and beginning that bring the rewards. There are beginners without number, but finishers are few.

When Columbus sailed for the new world, he and his crew suffered incredible hardships: severe storms, sickness, near famine, near mutiny by the crew. His queen however was not concerned with the trials he encountered, but whether or not he brought in the ship.

So it is with God's people. Their main concern is not how hard it is to serve Him, but did we finish our course and keep our faith.

Fight the good fight; finish your course; keep the faith. Today.

'How to do it' told by hospital experts

By JINNY TUETKEN
How much extra are you able to waste this year on household plumbing — 15 cents or $2,100. If you can waste $2,100, then you must be independently wealthy or you just aren't aware of the easy way not to waste on plumbing.

But if you would rather waste the 15 cents and save the $2,100, you probably know the easy way to make simple plumbing repairs by yourself.

St. Elizabeth Medical Center associates (employees) have learned those simple methods and know how to take those precious dollars from going down the drain.

They learned it at the third Spotlight In-service, "Spotlight on Plumbing." Bob Kitchell of the SEMC maintenance department hosted the take-home and do-it-yourself in-service training session.

He told the associates that the constant drip in a faucet can waste nearly 8,000 gallons of water per year. And if that drip turns to a steady stream, it can waste from 72,000 to 340,000 gallons each year. That comes to approximately $2,100 in water bills annually.

The repair job to that drippy faucet costs about 15 cents — to replace the washer, as this is the most common cause of a drip in the faucet. A few assembly and disassembly steps complete the task, he said.

Kitchell also presented safety tips to use around the house while making minor repairs. "Always use the plunger hasn't been used.

He stressed that use of caustic drain openers can be unwise and unnecessary if the plunger hasn't been used.

Pouring caustic drain openers into a clogged drain which is not draining at all could cause injury when the pipes are taken apart at the last resort, he said. If the drain is not even slowly draining water, nothing will unclog it short of taking off the goose-neck of the drain pipe, the speaker added.

Kitchell also stressed calling in a professional

HOUSEHOLD PLUMBING PROBLEMS are discussed by Bob Kitchell of the maintenance department at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He is pointing out areas where household plumbing problems are most likely to occur.

plumber if the problem isn't cleared up by using the basic steps he covered.

Spotlight In-services were designed by the SEMC Blue Ribbon Committee, which is made up of various medical center associates.

The goal is to offer other associates the chance to learn about topics they can use at home as well as at work. The in-services are offered during lunch hours at the center.

They feature speakers who work at the center and who are experts in the topic area. In this way, associates are able to learn about topics from people they know, trust and work with daily.

Previous Spotlight In-services have been done on electrical safety and personal finance.

Hope for restoration of sewer repair funds

Trustees of the Metro-East Sanitary District have decided to appeal $300,610 in reductions in a $723,593 application to the Emergency Distress Relief Administration for damages to district sewers and other property in spring flooding last spring.

The district plans to appeal that part of the funds specified for repair of sewer breaks, for which the district had asked $494,319. That request was cut to $127,699.

The application request was trimmed by the Emergency and Disaster relief fund upon the recommendation of a Texas consulting firm hired by the government to corroborate the applications with estimates of the damage caused by last spring's flooding.

At the same time, district commissioners said they will recommend any further funds for sewer repairs be allotted directly to the taxing district in which the damage occurred.

This results from a new ESDA ruling that requires the district to put out the repair jobs on competitive bidding rather than do the work itself or have the Army Corps of Engineers do it.

The commissioners said the state is advancing only 50 per cent of the repair cost. Because of its poor financial condition, the district cannot afford to do the work and then wait for reimbursement.

The district already has received $154,840, half of all ESDA allocations. In the past there have been occasions when it took several years to get reimbursements from the state or federal government.

GODFREY MAN HURT

James Miller, 27, Godfrey, was injured in an auto accident early this week when he struck his face on the windshield of his car, sustaining multiple cuts to his face, including a half-inch cut to his forehead. He was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was released.

Arrest driver

Clifford Nail, 22, of Granite City, was arrested at 2 a.m. Saturday and was charged with leaving the scene of an accident, careless driving and illegal transportation of liquor after a van he was driving allegedly struck two parked cars and left the scene.

The autos of Earl Grupe, 2901 Nameoki Drive, and Lee Green, 1312 Eighteenth St., were struck while parked at 21st and Adams streets at 1:05 a.m. Saturday and a description of the hit-and-run van was radioed to area police departments.

About 2 a.m. Saturday, a Granite City Steel security guard radioed that he was following a van of the same description and officers assisted in stopping the vehicle at Nameoki Drive and Circle Drive.

A passenger in the van was released without being charged. Police alleged finding an open can of beer inside.

Officers discovered Nail had a bullet wound to the right side of his chest and took him to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 7:12 a.m. Saturday. Doctors said a bullet apparently had entered the right chest wall and exited beneath his right arm. Swelling and bruising in the area where the bullet passed was diagnosed.

Nail was released to police who investigated and found Nail had been seated in a tavern in St. Louis when a man he knew fired a shot through a window, striking him. He had been treated at St. Louis City Hospital, but had signed himself out, police said.

Arrest 2 at party

Richard T. Burch, 20, of 2189 Iowa St., and Robert W. Hagnauer, 21, of 2531 Iowa St., were charged with disorderly conduct after they allegedly brought beer to a party in a vacant house at 2569 Iowa St., last week.

Police alleged juveniles were at the party and Burch and Hagnauer were told 90 minutes earlier to move the beer inside from the bed of their pickup truck and not to serve juveniles.

When police returned, several youths ran from the area, throwing cups of beer and beer bottles in yards and alleys, police alleged. Two quarter-barrels of beer and some beer bottles were found back in the bed of the truck. It was reported.

Burch and Hagnauer were released on $35 cash bond each.

EVA POPOVSKIY (right) is presented an award in recognition of 15 years' service to First Granite City National Bank. The award was presented by Melvin C. Wilmmsmeyer, bank president. Nineteen active employees of the bank have attained 15 or more years of continuous service.

Seniors at 'Y' view fitness demonstration

The senior citizens club of the YMCA heard a talk and viewed a demonstration on physical fitness at the 'Y' during their regular meeting.

The group also was informed that rooms in the downstairs area of the building have been renovated and may be used by the club.

The meeting was called to order by President Juanita Crawley, the opening prayer was led by Chaplain Bertha Mott and the pledge to the flag was recited by all. The secretary's report was approved and the treasurer's report was submitted. The physical fitness class will be held every Monday and Wednesday from 9 to 10 a.m. for four weeks at a nominal cost.

The seniors were told that there also is a class called "Life Span Review" sponsored by the Lifetime Learning Institute through Southern University at Edwardsville. The instructor is Lois Lybarger and meets every Thursday morning from 10 until 11 a.m. at the 'Y'. It will run four weeks.

An invitation by Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City Township supervisor, to attend a Hawaiian luau on Nov. 27 was read. Dancing will be from 7 until 10 p.m. The Christmas party will be held Dec. 19 from 7 until 10 p.m. Prizes will be awarded.

Those celebrating birthdays during October were Naomi Burnett, Bessie Milton, Marie McGovern, Vickie Elmore and Dorothy Kovak.

Refreshments were served to 40 members. Games and quilting were enjoyed after the meeting.

THROWN FROM CAR
Clifford Anderson, 18, of 2003 Missouri Ave., was injured during the weekend when he was thrown from a car after it was struck from behind. He was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was released.

FRIDAY

The dear departed Andrew Stevens and Kate Jackson return as spirits to live up the life of a still-living man (Jack Warden) — whether he likes it or not — in "Topper," an unearthly comedy on Friday, Nov. 9, on ABC. (Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

TUESDAY

Fernando Allende, Spanish-language film star, makes his American film debut in "The Streets of L.A.," a drama about a woman (played by Joanne Woodward) who, in a meaningless crime, embarks on a pursuit of three teen-aged hoodlums in the Los Angeles barrio, Tuesday, Nov. 13, on CBS. (Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

Joe Don Baker walks tall as TV detective

Joe Don Baker is a paradox. On-screen critics have described him as "mean" and "overpowering." Off-screen, colleagues know him as a soft-spoken, easygoing man of few words and no pretensions.

"I'm not the guy you see in the movies," explains Baker, who stars as New York City's chief of detectives Earl Eischied. "When I first came to Hollywood all the steady work was in series like 'Bonanza' or 'The FBI'. The regulars were always the good guys, so I ended up playing a lot of villains. And I played them the best I could because I wanted to keep getting jobs."

After dozens of supporting roles in television and films like "Cool Hand Luke," Baker starred in the TV movie "Mingo's Back in Town." His performance as a professional hitman who returns home to help his brother won critical praise and resulted in his being chosen to play Tennessee's legendary Sheriff Buford Pusser in "Walking Tall."

Comparing a country sheriff like Pusser and a city cop like Earl Eischied, Baker finds an interesting parallel. "They'd both give you every chance in the world to do the right thing," he says. "But once you turn on them they'd shoot you deader than last year's apple cider."

As a youngster in his hometown of Groesbeck, Texas, Joe Don idolized gridiron great Doak Walker and probably dreamed of someday becoming a pro football player. When he went away to college at North Texas State, he discovered he just wasn't big enough.

So, after years of indecision while he earned his degree in business, Joe Don turned to acting. I got to be a senior and I still didn't know what I wanted. Then a friend of mine got me in a college play. It was only two or three lines, but I liked it. As an escapist thing, I really enjoyed becoming a different person in a different time and place."

The acting bug stuck with Baker through a two-year Army stint. "Right after I got discharged," Baker says, "I headed straight for New York City. I was a blooming Barrymore or something. But I learned that to be a professional actor you really have to love the work to put up with all the hassles. When I was first trying to break in it seemed like I got a million rejections."

Joe Don Baker

After several lean years, he finally got a break when he was accepted into the prestigious Actor's Studio. "I think it was mandatory to wash dishes and sell shoes and suffer."

Joe Don's work eventually led to parts in two plays, "Marathon 33" and James Baldwin's "Blues for Mister Charlie." However, good parts on Broadway were few, so in 1965 he headed for Hollywood to find a career in TV or films.

But to this day, Baker remains a big fan of New York City. "I hope, like we did with the premiere of 'Eischied,' we can shoot a lot of the series back there. Every time I go to New York it's like a vacation."

MONDAY

David Hartman (right) interviews Desi Arnaz Jr. and Lucie Arnaz for a five-part series focusing on celebrity brothers and sisters, on "Good Morning America" during the week of Nov. 12-16 on ABC. (Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

When perfect roles go to someone else

By RUTH THOMPSON

It doesn't happen to every actor, but it happens. "It is finding the perfect role up for grabs. Then it goes to somebody else. It doesn't feel good but it doesn't have to mean a blighted career."

Carl Reiner took it beautifully, but initially it must have seemed absurd when he submitted a series concept in which he planned to star, to be told he wasn't the type. Absurd? Yes, because his storyline was autobiographical. However, he agreed on another man for the lead with himself in a supporting role. The series turned out to be the highly successful "Dick Van Dyke" show.

The most painful turnaround might have been the bypassing of Julie Andrews — a huge Broadway success in "My Fair Lady" — when the film version was cast. The role went to Audrey Hepburn, who, unlike Julie, is not a singer and had her singing dubbed in by Marni Nixon.

Andrey Hepburn's own initial Broadway starring role, "Gigi," eventually went to Leslie Caron when the movie version was made. But then, Audrey was such a big star and so busy she could probably not have done the role even if she still had a hankering for it.

One of the most painless of the near misses happened with the classic movie version of "Lost Horizon," and Brian Aherne recounted the details in his recent PBS interview with Dick Cavett.

Painless, not just because Aherne is a man of even disposition, but because it was nearly 30 years before he learned that he had been the original choice to star in James Hilton's haunting tale of the Englishman destined to become the holy man of Shangri-La, that mysterious enclave in the Himalayas.

"Friends had planned a dinner party to surprise me with the news, but that afternoon the producer found he could get Ronald Coleman." Aherne was a star, but as he points out, his friend Ronnie had had a succession of great roles that meant he was worth a million dollars more in box office receipts. "And a million dollars was worth considerably more at that time."

David Wayne, whose whimsical portrayal of Sakini in "Teahouse of the August Moon," was largely responsible for its Broadway success, was reported as long bitter that the starring role in the movie version went to Marlon Brando.

It has been said that Art Carney was upset when his Felix role in the Broadway production of "The Odd Couple" went to Jack Lemmon in the movie version. But apparently nobody was unhappy when Tony Randall became television's Felix and Jack Klugman made the Oscar role (originally played by Walter Matthau) forever his own.

But one of the fastest casting switches happened just this season. Robert Logan starred in the television movie, "A Man Called Sloane." But as it evolved into a series format he was no longer the type. What was needed was somebody (and Bond admits it) with a James Bond magnitude of tough charm and enough maturity to be authoritative. It added up to Robert Conrad, whose most recent NBC series was killed off to make him an offer he couldn't refuse.

1979—a record year at Amsted

Amsted Industries has announced that sales and net income reached all-time highs in the fiscal year ended Sept. 30. Sales totaled $855,725,000, up 22 percent from $699,755,000 a year ago. Earnings were $63,400,000, or $5.88 per share, up 27 percent from $49,900,000, or $4.63 per share, in 1978.

Joseph B. Lanterman, chairman, and Goff Smith, president, said net income amounted to 7.4 percent of net sales compared to 7.1 percent in 1978.

The improved margins resulted from a higher volume of shipments and the favorable impact of a lower federal income tax rate that became effective for corporations on Jan. 1, 1979.

In the last ten years, Amsted's earnings have grown at a 20 percent compounded annual rate. In the last five years, the growth has been at a 29 percent rate.

Amsted owns the American Steel Foundries. Sales in each of Amsted's three product categories achieved record levels.

Railroad product sales were $428,300,000, an increase of 27 percent, reflecting the continued high level of freight car building and a strong demand for repair parts, predominately wheels.

Sales of construction and building products of $218,400,000 were up 23 percent largely due to the inclusion for all of 1979 of Henry Pratt Co., which was included in the 1978 fiscal year for only five months.

General industrial product sales were $209,000,000, an increase of 12 percent over last year, principally attributable to the growth in the industrial sectors of the economy served by Amsted.

Lanterman and Smith said operating income increased from last year due to the higher sales levels.

Despite the higher volume, earnings from construction and building products were lower. This was partially due to the higher cost of ferrous metal scrap.

Other contributing factors were operating problems in the production of valve products, and inefficiencies associated with the start-up of the newly acquired Houston coil coating plant, which began shipments in December 1978.

The operating income from railroad products was adversely affected by a three-month work stoppage at the Bessemer, Ala., wheel plant in the third fiscal quarter and a work stoppage at the Keokuk, Iowa, wheel plant which began in early September 1979 and was settled on Oct. 12.

Record dividends of $1.86 per share were paid in 1979, up 34 percent from the $1.39 per share paid in fiscal 1978.

This is the eighth consecutive year the dividend has been increased.

In December 1978, the quarterly dividend was increased 16 percent to 43 cents per share, up from the 37 cents per share paid in June and September 1978.

In June 1979, the dividend rate was increased again, to 50 cents per share, up another 16 percent. And the dividend payable Dec. 14 to stockholders of record on Nov. 20 will be 55 cents.

The additions to property in fiscal 1979 were $24,550,000 down from $43,160,000 expended in 1978, which included $19,741,000 for the fixed assets of Henry Pratt.

About two-thirds of the 1979 capital expenditures were at the plant producing railroad freight car components.

Excluding acquisitions, expenditures for property additions in the next two fiscal years are expected to total $150,000,000.

Net current assets at Sept. 30 were $132,106,000, up $41,101,000 from a year ago.

Cash and short-term investments were $21,198,000 and Amsted had no short or long-term debt at the end of this year or last.

The executives noted that Amsted's backlog of orders at Sept. 30, amounted to $441,000,000 up from $355,000,000 a year earlier.

Orders for freight car components, which made up the largest portion of the backlog, were up substantially and constituted about two-thirds of the total increase.

The backlog of general industrial products is also up significantly from a year ago, reflecting continued strength in the industrial economy and also demand from the automotive sector as it undertakes re-tooling programs to downsize automobiles.

Unfilled orders for construction and building products, which historically have represented the smallest portion of the backlog, are unchanged from the level at Sept. 30, 1978.

The decline in housing starts has resulted in a leveling of incoming orders in this category of business.

Lanterman and Smith said, "There are uncertainties in the outlook for the general economy. Housing starts during 1980 are expected to fall below the number of starts in the year just ended."

"An economic slowdown could adversely affect sales in the general industrial and the construction and building product categories.

"However, a continued high level of freight car building and a continued strong demand for freight car repair components should result in another excellent year for the railroad product category and, overall, another good year for Amsted."
